In This Issue

Mr. Wallace, Mystic

"The man who does everything wrong." Mr. Wallace has been dubbed by some of his political opponents and, frankly, this often seems to be borne out by some of our Vice President's actions.

There is a reason for everything under the Sun, and a glance through Mr. Wallace's chart with us will give you the reasons for many of his speeches and actions. Turn to page 9.

Colds!

Here comes Mr. Winter, and with him those pesky colds. We believe Dr. Haworth's article on this dangerous nuisance is both timely and informative. The only thing astrological about this is the treatment on the susceptibility of certain individuals, but we are sure you'll find it well worth reading. It's on Page 11.

What's in Your Fifth House?

Whether you know it or not, some of the most interesting and important things in your life are tied up in your fifth house. In this issue, Mitzi Noee tells you about these things and what certain planets in your fifth house mean. You'll know yourself better after you read this, and if you don't know what planets were in this house at your birth you'll go running for an astrologer. But read it first—on Page 20.

The Full Moon OVER BERLIN!

THE strongly connectional Full Moon on November 12, 1943 in Berlin falls across the third and ninth cusps of the chart (see front cover) at 19 degrees Scorpio-Taurus respectively, the section of the zodiac shown to be connected to the charts of Roosevelt, King George VI of Britain, Churchill, Japan, Italy's King Victor Emmanuel. Also connected are The Third Reich chart (ascendant—people—and seventh cusp—war), Hitler's Venus-Mars in Taurus, Berlin Mars Cycle Chart and many others, including the Armistice chart of November 11, 1918.

The third house has to do with communications, news, talks, conferences and papers of a local nature or place. The ninth house deals with international and foreign affairs, treaties, long-distance communications and state department activities.

The planetary aspects that form at the cusp of the chart and meet the opposition of a planet at the cusp of the opposite house is always more emphatic in expression. Thus, the Full Moon at Berlin has the force of the manifestation strongly evident. It is, therefore, impressive.

It so happens that converse planets in President Roosevelt's chart, Venus-Mercury conjoined in the third, are linked to converse Jupiter in the ninth at the same zodiacal locality as the Full Moon. Converse planets are expressive of fate. Converse Moon in the Third Reich chart is 7 degrees Scorpio, on the president's progressed ascendant. This is a direct indication that the president is moving into the German situation in a more pronounced way than mere military strategy and politics. Mercury and Venus converse in the President's chart are favorable for peace negotiations. The Full Moon also falls across the third and ninth cusps of the German Republic's chart of November 9, 1918 at 1:30 p.m. Berlin.

It was the progressed Sun-Mars in Gemini in Hitler's chart that moved over the Mars radix area of the zodiac of the U. S. chart that brought Germany and the United States into war with each other in December 1941. A transit of Mars is now in this locality at the place of this Full Moon. It is retrograde and, therefore, weak, indicating decreased force in battle and a possible cessation of military action. A similar zodiacal pattern prevails at the time of the Berlin new Moon of October 29 and the Full Moon of November 12, 1943, with Gemini on the Mid-heaven and Virgo on the ascendant.

These two signs are governed by Mercury, the messenger, planet of communications, travel, conferences and negotiations. Gemini in the same area is on the Mid-heaven and Virgo, on the ascendant of President Roosevelt's chart.

This has a real significance. The Roosevelt influence hovers over the official life and the public interest of Germany. Add to this the fact that Saturn is in the Mid-heaven in Gemini at the same locality as Mars (added responsibility) in the President's chart and that Mars and the Mid-heaven in both of the Berlin charts are in the area of Mars in the U. S. chart. This indicates U. S. military activity closer to Berlin.

Hitler's progressed Sun is in Gemini, wedged in between a retrograde Mars and a retrograde Saturn on the Berlin new Moon and Full Moon charts' Mid-heaven, his progressed Venus having moved to the conjunction of Roosevelt's progressed Saturn. The indications are that Mr. Roosevelt is in a good position to dictate terms.

Additional indication of the ascendancy of the U. S. force over that of Germany in Berlin affairs is the Berlin first cusp (people) of the Berlin Full Moon chart at the same 24 degrees Virgo as the fourth cusp (finale) of the Washington Full Moon chart.

The editors and publishers of this magazine, along with those who are responsible for its printing, are doing everything within their power to keep a constant schedule. We realize that a late astrological magazine robs the reader of some days of guidance, and thoroughly appreciate your disappointment if our publication doesn't reach you on time—but letters of complaint only complicate matters by causing extra office work in answering them.

THE NATION

In October and November

THE two months governing this article may see a turning point in global affairs. Naturally, the United States will be greatly concerned in this as a nation and this concern applies all down through our ranks to the individual himself.

The Autumnal Equinox presages this new trend because of Sun, Mercury and Neptune conjoined in Libra in this sign's own seventh compartment. Libra is the sign of adjustment, harmony, peace and compromise. This is also the sign of appeasement—which has been all too prevalent during the last four years. On the negative side of the sign governorship is the reverse expression which includes war. It is well to remember this Libra seventh-house type of manifestation as it takes on importance during the last quarter of 1943.

The Sun represents administrative officialdom, authority and control. Mercury symbolizes communications, talks and conferences—Libra, negotiations—in the seventh house and a meeting of opposing forces.

Mercury is retrograde and thus in a weakened state. At the same time the good trine of Sun-Mercury-Neptune to Uranus in Gemini intensifies government agency activities, news, rules and regulations, messages and travel.

Venus in Virgo in the sixth house afflicts Uranus by square, complicating peace issues and indicating lack of co-operation in respect to food, supplies and government-agency regulations. Mercury goes direct on the fourth of October and re-enters Libra on the twelfth of October, forming a conjunction with Neptune (appeasement, communism and impractical ideals when in Libra) over the Equinox point. This marks October 12, 13, 14 as days likely to hold important developments or the releasing of important news. This Equinox chart is strongly fatalistic because of the planets being chiefly in the fourth quadrant, from the seventh to the fourth houses.

In computing the results of this planetary pattern, we should consider that the seventh house has a bearing on war, international affairs, peace bids or negotiations and disputes. The sixth concerns foods, clothing, supplies, labor, army and navy. The fifth governs colonial affairs, envoys and ambassadors. The fourth house emphasizes agricultural products, administration and opposition. Saturn here in Gemini has a bearing upon President Roosevelt's control and operation of war issues.

Sun and Mercury conjoin to Neptune affects our relationship to the war program and our Allies as well as the combined effort of our enemies and the result of communism upon our national thought. Utopian policies and ideals come in for special emphasis. As a nation we may become impractical and trend toward visionary and Utopian schemes.

The Third-Term Inauguration Chart

Harking Back to a Moment of Vital Significance

THE time of President Roosevelt's inauguration for his third term was January 20th, 1941, 12:11:30 P.M.

This was probably one of the most decisive instances in the history of our nation if not of the world. It was the first time that any citizen had ever been elected for a third term as President of the United States. This feature alone had a meaning far deeper than a more political victory, for it pointed the hand of destiny at Mr. Roosevelt as the head of a great nation during its participation in a global war.

The inauguration chart clearly indicates the reason for a third term. There was no direct official or personal connection in the Wendell Willkie chart which could have made possible his election in 1940.

This clearly demonstrates that our world does not progress on an accidental, haphazard basis as some believe, but that it operates on schedule just as does any organization or industrial plant.

Old readers will remember that the staff associates of this magazine made the definite prediction long in advance that Mr. Roosevelt would be nominated and elected for a third term.

From the first study of the Roosevelt chart, it was evident that he was eminently fitted to lead us in war. The charts of the other political aspirants, including Mr. Willkie, failed to show any signs of war leadership as connected to the U. S. horoscope.

Important Inauguration chart of President Roosevelt's Third Term Jan. 20, 1941, 12:11:30 p.m. at Washington, D. C.

The Inauguration Chart is presented here because of its relationship to the Scorpio new Moon of October 29th, 1943, and the Taurus-Scorpio full Moon which follows on November 11-12th, 1943.

For easy reference, to this Inauguration chart, we are designating below the featured planetary places in the Zodiac in accord with the method known as Connectional Astrology.

Features of the Chart

Sun at time of Inauguration: Progressed Midheaven and Converse Sun of Third Reich chart now converge at this point in 1943-44. This can draw President Roosevelt into a close official contact with a defeated Germany.

South Node in 12th house: On the cusp of 6th cusp of Hitler's chart. Danger, difficulties, loss and sorrows to U. S. because of Hitler and his Military aspirations.

Saturn in 12th house: Connected at the time (1941) with progressed Venus (Hitler's ruling planet) in Hitler's department of war, foreign relations. Indicated fate contact with Hitler in the offing. Saturn ruled official 10th and international 9th cusps, adverse for Hit-

Chart of the Third German Reich

And Its Connection with the Third Term Inauguration Chart

THE Third Reich chart presents the astrological pattern of Hitler and his satellites in their management (or rather mismanagement) of Germany.

Using connectional Astrology, we find close connecting links with Inauguration chart of President Roosevelt at the beginning of his third term (see page 6). Venus on the 9th cusp of the latter chart is in the same place in the Zodiac as the 9th cusp of the foreign and international affairs in the Third Reich chart. This indicates that President Roosevelt can deal officially with Germany and—in collaboration with our allies—bring about a just peace. The two charts are officially coupled together in 1943—which could give rise to opportunity for peace.

Venus in the President's own birth chart is in the same area—five degrees Aquarius—as Mercury in the Third Reich chart. We present these features to show that President Roosevelt is an astrological "natural" to take the lead in the coming peace moves.

The initial successes of Hitler are shown in the Third Reich chart by Venus at the Midheaven in trine aspect to Jupiter, conjoined to Mars in the sixth house denoting large-scale military action. At the same time, the eventual failure of Hitler and the Nazis was promised by the square of Venus to Uranus in the twelfth house of weakness and defeat and the opposition to Pluto (mass group activities) in the fourth house. This represents the finale of any undertaking. Progressed Moon of the Third Reich chart passes the locality of Saturn in the autumn of this year, with progressed ascendant near Hitler's Neptune and converse ascendant opposite his martial Mercury. The Third Reich converse Sun and Midheaven are now at 0 degree Aquarius, adverse to Sun in Hitler's chart. This position can disrupt and reduce Hitler's prestige and interfere with his control of the Nazi party because it is placed near his fourth house (end) opposite his Midheaven, the point of official position.

The Part of Fortune in a chart designates PURPOSE and in the Roosevelt Third Term Inaugural Chart, Part of Fortune is in the tenth house of administrative conduct and official action. The Inaugural chart is so impressively connected with the Third Reich chart that the two should be read together. The Part of Fortune is subject to its depositor Uranus, who in turn has Venus, ruler of the chart, as depositor.

In the 1943-44 span, the Third Reich chart Sun arrives at the place of Part of Fortune in the Roosevelt Inauguration chart. In November 1943, progressed Moon of the Third Reich chart reaches Hitler's progressed Saturn (key planet to Hitler's power) and the two oppose the Inauguration chart first and second cusps, denoting change. The full Moon chart suggests that this has possibilities of peace negotiations.

The Berlin Scorpio new Moon of October 29, 1:59 a.m., shows Mars turning retrograde exactly upon the Midheaven in square aspect to Mars and Jupiter in the army compartment of the Third Reich chart. At the same time, the new Moon chart Venus (peace) in the twelfth house of weakness squares Mars. This is not good for negotiations.

It will probably remain for the full Moon of November 12, 1943 to set off the motivation which will result in final peace.

While it would be foolhardy to predict an actual cessation of hostilities at this time, due to a lack of vital astrological data, the indications of the inception of peace are too strong to overlook.

HOW THE MIGHTY HAVE FALLEN!

By ELBERT BENJAMINE

President of The Church of Light

JULY 25, 1943, Italy's 21 years of Fascism, and the ruinous reign of Dictator Mussolini, came to an end. At the time Mussolini came into power astrologers freely predicted, because of three malefics in the house of war (seventh) in conjunction with the Moon, that he was the most likely man to start the European war. That was before Hitler, with three planets in the house of war (seventh), including Mars in square with Saturn, had put in an appearance.

And while Mussolini did not actually start the war which now has been so ruinous to Italy, his was the first European nation to start the chain of military conquests by invading and conquering helpless Ethiopia. He was following the precedent set in 1931 by Japan when it overran Manchuria, and in 1934 when it began to invade Northern China. And there can be little doubt that the success of Japan, and Mussolini's success in defying the League of Nations when he acquired Ethiopia, encouraged Hitler in his dream of world domination.

An individual with an angular Uranus is apt to be an extremist. And should he change his ideas, he is apt to swing from one extreme to its opposite.

In his earlier years Mussolini was the editor of a socialist paper. The writing is indicated by the prominence of Mercury and the activity of the third house. Saturn, one third house ruler, is conjunction the Moon and sextile Sun and Mercury. Uranus, the other third house ruler, is angular, sextile Jupiter and Venus, and trine Neptune. It was the trine of Uranus in the house of profession (tenth) to Neptune in the house of labor (sixth) which gave him his socialist leanings. Mercury and Sun in close conjunction in the house of publishing (ninth) indicates ability as an editor.

It was the coming of the first World War which turned Mussolini against socialism. Four planets in the house of war (seventh) gave so much activity to the thought-cells relative to strife that with war in the air he was unable to advocate peace. The socialist party in 1914 was opposed to war, and when Mussolini kept advocating in his paper that Italy join the conflict, he was expelled from its ranks. At the time progressed Sun was in prominence (conjunction) aspect with the place of honor (M.C.), getting for him much publicity. Also progressed Mercury was trine birth-chart Pluto, the planet of groups and coercion, bringing party action against him.

He served during the war, and at its end, having been expelled from the socialist party, he went to the other extreme and began agitating for Fascism. In 1919 progressed Sun was in the house of honor (tenth) square birth-chart Saturn, and progressed Venus was in prominence (conjunction) aspect with the M.C. and in opportunity (sextile) aspect with Mars, the planet of war. The first Fascisti meeting, with Mussolini taking a leading part, was held March 23, 1919.

Under these progressed aspects he started on a three-year period of oratory and organization, which ended on October 30, 1922, in the March on Rome, the slaughter of his enemies, and himself becoming dictator. At that time progressed Sun in the house of honor

Henry A. Wallace

Dreamer, Idealist, Mystic

AS A political factor in the New Deal, Vice-President Henry A. Wallace has perhaps been more of a liability than an asset. In fact, political experts have been almost unanimous in pronouncing him a colossal "flop."

The "Economy of Scarcity," the killing of little pigs, the plowing under of cotton and other radical economic theories as put into action by Vice-President Wallace are closely associated with his name in the minds of the voters.

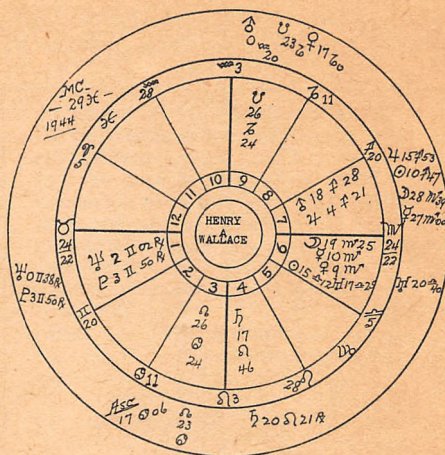

Also to be considered is the fact that Mr. Wallace does not owe his present position as holder of the second highest title in the nation to his own popularity. It is no political secret that Mr. Roosevelt forced his nomination through political pressure on the leaders of his own party.

This does not imply that Mr. Wallace is a political parasite or that he is even the misfit which his enemies would like to make him appear. In the reformed measures of the New Deal, he has a definite place and the very things that have made him unpopular are actually experimental gropings toward a goal to which we as a nation are inevitably bound. If the road to hell is paved with good intentions, then the road to what will probably be the closest human approach to Utopia must be paved with errors.

Mr. Wallace was born October 7, 1888 at 7:12 p.m., while the Sun was passing through Libra. It often happens that Libra natives find it necessary to justify and explain their conduct to combat violent criticism. Let us pursue this a bit further.

He first came into national prominence when appointed to the Roosevelt cabinet in 1933 as Secretary of Agriculture. Mercury by progression was returning to its own natal locality in his sixth house of employment and service. Progressed Moon was in Cancer at progressed ascendant, joining the place of the Moon in the President's chart. This was most appropriate for an appointment of a personal nature to public (Moon in Cancer) service.

Following this appointment, progressed Sun in the Wallace chart was entering Sagittarius in the seventh house of contacts and public relations. With this shift an opposition of Sun to progressed Neptune became operative and endured through the following depression years. With what were no doubt the best intentions, Mr. Wallace launched his "Economy of Scarcity" movement which brought down upon him the criticism of the nation. Mr. Wallace has found it necessary to justify this and other well-intentioned moves even in his own state.

Neptune often prompts impractical plans and schemes due to faulty reasoning and judgment. We cite this to illustrate the planetary indications operating during the episode of the little pigs and cotton. This particular aspect will not again occur during Mr. Wallace's life, but others of like character will and he will continue to react in the same manner toward them. The latest evidence of this is his much-criticized statement about furnishing "a bottle of milk a day" to the entire world.

Utopian Idealism

The mystic planet Neptune and Pluto conjunct in the mental and studious sign Gemini are the rising planets in the personal compartment of Mr. Wallace's personal chart. They color the state of his mind, personal views and application. Neptune is the planet of imagination, Utopian ideals and visionary trends of thought. When afflicted, it is identified with schemes of an impractical nature. It so happens that Neptune received the opposition of Jupiter as a

ESP Department

Staff-Conducted by CHRISTINA DAHL, Associate Editor, TODAY'S ASTROLOGY. Address letters to 3041 N. Kolmar Ave., Chicago 41, Ill.

What is ESP? Does everyone possess psychic perception, occult powers? Can these mysterious abilities be developed and used at will? How can you gain information not available to the physical senses? Send and receive thoughts from a distance? How is it possible to foresee events before they happen? Or "see" things happening at a distance? Do the dead ever communicate with the living?

These are a few of the many questions with which this department will deal. In each issue of TODAY'S ASTROLOGY we will present your real-life experiences with psychic phenomena.

Have you ever had a prophetic dream? A clairvoyant, telepathic, or other psychic experience that proved valid? Read below the experiences of other TODAY'S ASTROLOGY readers; then, if you have had a similar true experience, WRITE AND TELL US ABOUT IT. Be sure to state if we may publish your letter.

STRANGE AFTERMATH OF A HUNTING ACCIDENT

Dear Miss Dahl: While up in the Canadian Northwoods in 1925, my brother Bill met with an accident. He forgot the rifle was loaded, and handled it like a walking-stick, shooting side up. When my friend Jerry Hutchins and I got him into the cabin, we found the wound that went from his eyebrow to hairline was just a scratch, fortunately. The kid just passed out cold from the shock. After dressing Bill's scratch, we brought him around with a stiff shot of revivifier, and he was okay. Just mumbled something delirious about how worried Dad and Mom were. Well, this was on the 15th of the month, and Bill had been out cold from 3:35 to 3:47, I happened to notice. Bill got okay promptly and we finished out our vacation, boarding the train for home on the 22nd and arriving early on the 24th. Coming home, we found Mom, Dad and Sis in an awful state of worry and mystification. They claimed that on the 15th Bill had come back, stayed 10 or 12 minutes talking with them, then suddenly up and left as quickly as he'd come. He'd talked to all of them together, and mother had embraced him. They asked him about the wound on his forehead, and he said he just got it in an accident in the Northwoods. How could he just have got it, they had said, when it took two days to come home from there? Well, Jerry and I had a time convincing them that Bill had been with us all the time, until I remembered the exact time when he had been unconscious. Yes, they said, it was the exact time Bill had been with them! Then Bill had awakened in the cabin mumbling about how worried Dad and Mom were! In that "unconscious interval" my brother had been in two places, 2500 miles apart, at one and the same time! To this day Mom swears that the son she embraced on the day when he was really unconscious in the northern cabin, was just as solid flesh and blood as the same son she embraced nine days later, upon his real arrival home!

This type of psychic phenomenon is quite rare. Unlike instances of mere telepathy (thought transference) which are within the experience of almost everyone. Because it is not within the ken of most people, many naturally question its truth, as well as the sanity of the people who have the courage to report such occurrences. The above seems to be a true case of what occultists call "astral projection" in which the astral vehicle is temporarily released from the physical body while the latter is in a state of unconsciousness or suspended animation. As the astral body travels with the speed of thought, occultists say, geographical distance is no barrier.

A CASE OF CLAIRVOYANCE

Dear Miss Dahl: One day two months ago I had lain down to rest after a session in my Victory garden. Closing my eyes I saw a clear vision in which I recognized a Mrs. C., whom I did not know personally, only that she was new in the neighborhood and attended the same Church as we. She had appeared in robust health. In the vision, however, she

The Cause, Prevention And Cure of Colds

By Dr. A. J. HAWORTH

THE common cold is all too common; and you may sniff with it but don't sniff AT it. Colds are the result of constipation, generally—the poor elimination of too much unmasticated starch and refined flour and sugar products as well as the uric-laden, decaying flesh tissue. No meat is “fresh.” As soon as the animal is killed decay sets in, for Nature does not “put off” doing her job to accommodate man or for any other reason.

Moreover, colds are the forerunner of many dangerous and fatal diseases, because for the reasons stated above, the blood becomes toxic and nonresistant to cold germs that invade the body to feed upon the debris. No organism will gravitate to a place where there is no food to sustain it. This is just as true of the cold germ scavenger, the buzzard, etc. as it is of the birds that fly south in the winter or the animal that haunts natural feeding grounds.

This is an ultra-scientific era in every field of endeavor, and the laboratory dealing with germs and serums have contributed unestimable assistance to the health of mankind. However, one point has two schools of thought. That is the manufacture of serum to administer as a specific for each disease germ that appears.

Let us impartially examine this: There is doubt that disease germs, which attack body tissue laden with filth, make inroads on the fairly “good” tissue that is in the weakened body and cause prolonged illness, permanent damage or death. And there is every reason to believe that “specific” serums are capable of killing the unfriendly micro-organisms. Also there is at least some grounds for the belief that certain serums may render one immune to certain diseases. BUT, just what is the damage of the inorganic and animal content of the “shot” upon human tissue? And is there not a better and

NATURAL way to prevent and cure body ailments?

Not long ago the writer discussed this matter with a staff of doctors in a large hospital. One doctor offered, in defense of diphtheria injections, for instance, that the diphtheria death rate had sharply declined since the innovation of the serum. But admitted that the decline could be partially ascribed to the introduction of modern sanitation and more rational eating, attention to diets, vitamins etc. and everything contributory to maintaining a cleaner more resistant body.

Parenthetically, it may be noted that in California alone records show that there are about 350,000 vegetarians and as many more “on the fence”. That is, those who eat only fish or fowl occasionally. They do not care anything about meat rationing, but we understand that a certain group of 5000 vegetarians are going to apply for more points on cheese, butter etc. which is also rationed and is the main source of their proteid.

Now, if the contention of serum enthusiasts is the last word in this vital matter, why would it not be possible to combine all the anti-serums into one, inject everyone and make them immune to any and all diseases?

This would surely be a master stroke, if it were not for the fact that any “shot” begins to wear off after a few days. This is admitted. Fever serums lose their potency, according to authority on serums in a year to three years.

We believe that the best immunity to any disease is proper eating and proper mental attitude. Man has conquered man and has dominated the largest and most dangerous beasts by slaughter, confinement and enslavement. Yet he fears tiny organisms he cannot see without a microscope. And the cold germ he cannot see or isolate by any means thus far discovered. Cold “shots” have been proven to be experimental only. Fear of these things he cannot see or understand is worse than visible things. Fear of the darkness can make hysterical children. And fear of want, losing loved ones etc. make neurotic adults. All fear causes worry,

The ASTROLOGY of HANDWRITING

By MARY ADAMS LLOYD

IF you are listening to your radio and a program that you do not like comes on, all you have to do is to turn a little knob and you are rid of it. But if you have a friend or relative or associate who gets on your nerves, there is no little knob that you can turn to get rid of the inharmony. Most of us can endure unpleasant conditions if we understand where the trouble lies. A skilled mechanic knows instantly what is wrong with his machine and sets about correcting the trouble. A watchmaker sees instantly what is wrong with a watch. Unfortunately human beings are not so easily diagnosed and corrected. You probably have said to yourself something like this: "I don't like her she is too conceited." Or, "He's nice enough but he has no ambition." Men have business cards with name and address; and also identification cards, but these tell only who he is and where he lives—but nothing of what he is. Wouldn't it be a fine idea if everyone carried his Astrological chart with him like his ration book! Or better yet, have it tattooed on his chest! But then, not everyone could interpret a chart even if they saw it.

There is a simpler, easier way of finding out about people, even if you have never seen them. That is by their handwriting. Since a person's handwriting and his chart always reveal identical characteristics, a glimpse of a person's handwriting is quicker than examining his chart and it can be done without asking any embarrassing questions as to age, etc. This behind-the-scenes glimpse of your friend can be worked out two ways—backwards and forwards. You may want to know: Is he reliable? Is he conceited? Is he ambitious? Can he handle details. Or you may hold a certain specimen in your hand and ask "What does this long crossing of the "T" mean? What do these downward dashes over the "I's" mean? What does this tall stem of the letter "d" signify? In the one case you use the handwriting to back up your opinion of your friend; in the other case you have not seen the person, but use the handwriting to reveal points about his character. Let me emphasize right here, that there is no element of fortune telling or forecasting in Grapho-analysis. It is character analysis, pure and simple; and is as scientific as psychology or psycho-analysis.

Following the general trend that people are more interested in scandal, gossip, accidents, murders, etc., than in the happy, constructive things of life, let us begin with some faults and shortcomings that are most plainly detected in handwriting.

Sun and Moon are conjunction; Jupiter is trine Mercury; and Mercury is sextile both Venus and Saturn. He would turn out to be a competent, poised and authoritative executive. What does copy B show? Extreme emotion in the slant; Ambition in the long crossing of the letter "t," but no authoritative strokes to back it up. A case of wishful thinking. No persistence, as shown in the large lower and "untied" loops: A general appearance of lack of confidence and timidity as if hoping for the best but really expecting the worst. His chart shows that his Sun, Jupiter, Venus and Mercury are all conjunct in Leo, squared (almost exactly) by Saturn, the planet of obstacle, delays and disappointments.

The girl was born October 16th. Her Sun was in Libra sextile Jupiter in Leo and trine Saturn in Gemini. Moon was square Saturn. Four of her planets, Sun, Mercury, Venus and Uranus were all in Libra. This fact and the aspect between Sun and Jupiter might not have disqualified her; but with Sun trine Saturn giving her (according to Charles E. O. Carter) a "self-assertive and self-expressive urge" and a "strong constructive tendency" she would not have been able to handle routine and detail, but rather in an artistic and lady-like manner would soon have been running the entire office as well as the "boss." You would not have hired her, I feel sure, but would still hope to find a Saturn-sextile-Mercury girl who would write with a fine pen, giving a light touch, a normal slant and simple capital letters.

Notice the affected, faddish circles over the letter "i;" the carefully made up-turned terminals; the artificial shading and the grammar-grade "r's." All this indicates a shallow, vain, self-centered strain in her nature. If you feel as I do about people who make circles instead of dots over their "i." (Orphan Annie eyes, I call them) you would feel like a cat with her fur rubbed the wrong way.

"Too much of a good thing" is an old saying. In "As You Like It" Shakespeare makes Rosalind say (Act IV, sc. 1) "Can one desire too much of a good thing?" Don Quixote also asks "Can we ever have too much of a good thing?" Perhaps they both intended to imply that the answer is "no." But in considering human character the answer is decidedly "Yes." Balance is the most valuable characteristic anyone can have. It is the fundamental principle of all nature. Temperate zones are the most desirable climates in which to live. Temperate people are the most desirable ones with whom to live. Too much heat gives the tropical jungles; too much cold gives us the Arctic and Antarctic regions. Too much sympathy gives us the sob sister; too much economy gives us the miser; too much versatility gives us

THE INDIAN ZODIAC

By FRANK J. MCCARTHY

LIKE other ancient races, the American Indians wrote their history in hieroglyphics. There are countless tokens of antiquity in the halls of the Great White Father Research Bureau at Washington, D. C. There are also painted and sculptured symbols on the walls of Wilson's Cave, in Indiana. The ascending Sun as well as descending is shown. So is the Moon in its various phases—as a serpent in the form of a circle, with a goodly piece of its tail down its throat as though it were endeavoring to swallow itself.

Also the viper with wide distended jaws in the attitude of war with the scorpion; the tongueless crocodile; as well as the seven stars and the hydra serpent arranged in a detached group or cluster. There are many more delineations less clearly defined including the vulture, the buzzard, the owl, the eagle, the dove, the quail, the fox, and other animals. The hydra is supposed to convey the idea of one body with envy, malice and vile passions. The venomous reptiles symbolize greed; the scorpion was the symbol of hatred and the viper portrayed revenge. These symbols made up the Indian Zodiac which corresponds to a striking degree to the Zodiac of the ancient astrologers of the East.

In 1795 another cavern was discovered in Kentucky that in many respects are similar to the catacomb peculiar to ancient Egypt. These caverns contained bodies embalmed in as great a state of perfection as was known in Egypt in the days of Abraham, eighteen hundred years before Christ. The most glorious and prominent object in this spacious cave is an image of the Sun. None can enter without beholding it. With one glimpse your mind spans the ages—and you know that the Sun worshippers had a citadel here—giving to the great central luminary as the great source of light and life the acme of adoration. American Indians also worshipped the Moon as a subordinate deity.

The great valley of the Mississippi had abundant proof that links the worship of the luminaries with similar cults elsewhere on Earth. Consequently the relation of the Indians with the races of Europe and Asia is stronger than is apparent at first. For instance the serpent in the form of an orb or circle, biting its tail, or feeding upon itself was used by the Greeks and Egyptians to convey the idea of perpetual mutation of creation and change of matter with the seasons. The American Indians used this figure to demonstrate the philosophical idea that the world feeds upon itself, receiving from itself continual sustenance for renovation. The serpent or Dragon also represented the Nodes of the Moon and so reveals that the ancient American Indians were familiar with the symbols of Astrology.

The following describes and interprets each symbol of the Indian Zodiac:

ARIES: Spring begins when the Sun enters the Fire Sign Aries the third week in March. Indian Zodiacal symbolism depicts man's magnetic relationship to the Sun with the power of the Sun's rays concentrated in his hands. He aids Nature to bring forth its beautiful resources through cultivation of the soil. The Indian brave is shown standing on a shield of the Pathfinder, an ancient totem composed of a pair of horns attached to a shield. The horns mean "attack" and the shield "defense." The idea symbolized is equivalent to the generally recognized astrological rulership of Mars assigned to Aries and signifies "trained and ready."

TAURUS: Oyster shells were used for wampum by the Indians. It was while the Sun tenanted Taurus, the money Sign, that the Indians could get the oyster shells to "coin" their money. Wampum beads and belts were treasured by the Indians for all sacred peace treaties, truces, etc. Nations recognized

FACTS ABOUT SATURN

By JANE ELLEN CAREY

YOU have heard Saturn called the Great Malific, the Grim Reaper, Planet of Retribution, Old Things, The Past etc. You have come to look upon Saturn as something to fear, not realizing that your fears really grow out of lacks in yourself, otherwise Saturn would have no fear for you. Your Saturn is there in your horoscope in one of the twelve houses and it is you, who give to Saturn his outward nature in the material world. For Saturn rules materialism.

More people seek advice from Astrology during a Saturn transit than under any other planet. The stress is intense and could it be that being mere mortals we all fall far short of the inner goals in our hearts and so feel the weight of Saturn most poignantly?

The most noticeable transit to work on the lives of men and women is the transit of Saturn over the natal Saturn degree. This takes place at the age of thirty years. It represents a turning point in the life of the individual. The life takes on new seriousness due to inner pressure brought out by this planet. Occupational changes occur frequently at this time. People really discover what they can do and renewed ambition makes them capable of gaining their goal. The frivolous type invariably settles down to the more practical considerations of life. Former things, ideas, and characteristics pass away and make room for improvement. Saturn is credited with removing lots of dead wood from the stream of life.

If one has been careless in health matters for the first thirty years of life, then this Saturn transit over natal position will bear down with material symptoms of disease, pointing out the weak spots of the body; the nervousness of that system of the body, the result of wrong types of thinking. The mind dwells much on the failures in the individual life and ambition surges anew to wipe out the past.

Saturn in transit over the Sun works in much the same way. His influence is always restricting, repressing, and full of discipline. During such a transit the native imagines all the world may be against him as he weighs himself in the balance. One finds fault and is dissatisfied with partners in general and the marriage partner in particular. One feels that others do not understand him or her. There is a lack of love of others according to the feelings of the beloved. What is not generally understood by the native is that Saturn works in and through materialism, in material welfare, external influences that indirectly effect the emotional depth. In lowered physical vitality, reduced material circumstances etc. the emotions take the beating in a round about way.

Squares of Saturn to strong points in the chart make themselves felt also, according to the natures of the planets in square aspect. The square of Saturn and Moon in a woman's chart will cause her to feel that life is just about over for her. She feels older than her years with every vestige, seemingly, of youth and good looks vanishing as if over night.

A square aspect to Mercury fills the mind with an ominous sense of dread, impending doom, an inexplicable fear of the future. One worries about insecurity. Everything seems so uncertain that the native feels almost as if he was losing his mind. But if one has a good Mercury in the chart that is needless fear re Saturn.

And so on with all the planets as they meet with restrictions and denials when Saturn gets in the position of a chart to set off these vibrations. Whatever the nature of a certain planet, Saturn always seems to restrict and hinder the proper expression of that planet.

Now let us look at the various houses in a chart and see how a natal position, or a transit, in a particular house will manifest.

Saturn is the first house. . . . Personalities change to conform to the formidable characteristics of Saturn. The will-power sometimes lessens as one grasps the cosmic view of life. If one has been the active type, friends

LOOKING AHEAD

For Those Born Sept. 23-Oct. 22

FOR the past two months, you members of the Libra clan have been subject to a new and unprecedented influence in your lives. Neptune entered your sign early in August, and will remain there all during the year ahead.

Since you have never experienced this influence before, you cannot go back into your life for a precedent when dealing with the conditions it will bring about.

There is little doubt that a decidedly impressive change is taking place in your mental processes or that such a change will gradually occur as this new occupancy of Neptune in your sign gathers strength. This can be compared to the opening of a blossom, first the time of bud, then a hint of color and finally the fully unfurled petals of the flower. Your consciousness—the essence of your soul—now bursts forth under the pressure of the eternal spiritual growth. The type of expansion and the time of its occurrence will be governed by the planetary formation in relationship to your sign.

While this stimulating planet Neptune will be in your sign for fourteen years and Uranus for six more, they

☆☆ STARRING LIBRA—☆☆

WALTER LIPPMAN, who writes for "highbrows," was born September 23, 1889. He has Sun in exactly 0° Libra, the Sign that occupies his first Solar House. The opposite zodiacal Sign is Aries in the Seventh Solar House, which rules marriage. Mr. Lippman was divorced by his wife when the planet Saturn opposed his Sun degree, by transit.

He is a rather concentrated individual, with Air Signs stressed highly, and because the Moon and Mars are in Virgo, the Sign of criticism and mental purity, his style is cerebral rather than physical. His mind works with cool, crystal-clear objectiveness. Yet he is philosophical, tolerant, just, and broadminded because he has Jupiter in Sagittarius, and Uranus and Mercury in Libra, to give him balance.

His horoscope shows Venus and Saturn in Leo, which are helpful to his (Please turn to page 58) will not be linked together by orb of aspects after 1944. This means that birthdays from September 24 to October 18 are in the direct path of the Neptune-Uranus trine and those having such birthdays have a grand opportunity to expand and advance themselves.

The Neptune-Uranus type of manifestation is different from what would be the case if any other planets were forming the zodiacal contact. Your response to the influence will largely conform to your soul's growth plus the Great Purpose for which you were sent into the experiences of this life.

Your existence on the earth can be considered in two major ways: first, your part as an actor in the ever-moving and changing performance in the world drama; second, as a pupil in the school of life to gleam instruction from the events and conditions you encounter. Occultists often class people as old or young souls. Using this premise, the year ahead constitutes a test which will determine the "soul age" of many of you Libra natives. The test will be your reaction to the Neptune-Uranus position in your sign. This is true because, in your case, Libra denotes your basic nature, the root of your being (Please turn to page 57)

LOOKING AHEAD

For Those Born Oct. 23-Nov. 21

THE year-ahead outlook for you Scorpio natives is one of progress and improvement, although much confusion is indicated with sudden events which will require lightning decisions and changes in your course of action.

A chief consideration is Mars, your ruling planet, in Gemini aligned with Saturn and Uranus up to March 28, 1944. Mars entered this contact August 24, 1943. Gemini is your eighth-house sign and covers a variety of interests and expressions. Planets in this area do not give you direct support. Their influence depends largely upon contacts made by transit planets as they move into various locations of the zodiac.

Gemini has a mental type of expression, bearing on study, instruction, communications, local travel, relatives and neighbors. It favors such activities as those in art, literature, science, communication and factory work.

It is this eighth house of yours which relates you to the money and affairs of others—your partner, mate or associate. It has to do with estates and inheritances. Legacies are indicated where this is made feasible by circumstances.

☆☆ STARRING SCORPIO—☆☆

WILL DURANT, writer and critic of philosophy, was born November 5, 1885, in Massachusetts. His famous work, "The Story of Philosophy," critical commentary on philosophers and their teachings, was published in 1926. This brilliant scholar and eclecticist writes "for the classes, but is read by the masses."

At his birth Neptune in Taurus was in opposition to Mercury in Scorpio. This inclines him to seek a solution to the world's problems through philosophy and to discuss the pros and cons of various types of philosophy. He likes to go to the very root of things and interpret with precision the views of Kant, Hegel, Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Santayana, and other great thinkers.

At the time of Durant's birth the Moon was in Scorpio trine Saturn in Cancer. Scorpio and Cancer are both Water Financial gains through allotments or government payments are also indicated. There may be friction over finances. Your partner may commit some extravagance which commits you to future payments.

Mars in such long-time close association with Uranus is often productive of sudden happenings bearing on your work, health, travel, personal affairs and plans. Take proper precautions while traveling or working with electricity and machinery.

The return or second conjunction of Mars and Uranus which occurs on January 16, 1944 in Gemini intensifies all that is usually attributed to the influence of Mars and Gemini. This recommends mental leadership on your part, this being most likely to come about through some new methods or shortcuts you invent. A radical change in your habits and opinions is likely to occur now. You might even change your political views at least to some extent. Travel for either military, industrial or commercial purposes seems indicated.

Throughout the period which began August 24 of this year and continues to April 1944, you are subject to sudden outbursts of temper and the determination to have your own way. This be-

WAIT UNTIL LOVE IS MUTUAL

Dear Miss Dahl: I am in love with a soldier. . . after asking me to marry him he said he didn't love me, but was very fond of me. I have done everything in my power to make him love me, with no results. Could I help him make up his mind? Or should I wait for developments? I was born July 6, 1925; he Sept. 27, 1920.

H. J. H., Nevada.

Your Union Chart is excellent, indicating the young man is likely to come to love you deeply and sincerely. As yet his feelings have not crystalized, partly because he is going through a difficult emotional cycle (Saturn square his birth Moon), and partly because you have used the wrong psychology in dealing with him. "I have done everything in my power to make him love me," you say. That's just it, Miss H. You left nothing for the boy to do. I suggest that you let your soldier do the courting. Make it necessary for him to put forth more effort. You need not be coy or insincere. Be utterly sincere, but wiser. Remember that love is more apt to die of surfeit than of starvation. Don't make the mistake of being cloyingly demonstrative. It is natural for the man to be the pursuer, the woman the pursued. There are exceptions, but it is plain your soldier values his masculine prerogative—so let him keep it. Be patient and avoid forcing matters. It may take until March, but if you are wise, his feelings should have crystalized by then, and you two can make a really good marriage.

A SOLDIER'S PROBLEM

Dear Christina Dahl: I came home on leave from overseas, and did not tell my girl, wanting to surprise her. Well, I certainly did that—I found her in the arms of another soldier. There had been others besides him. She admitted it herself. I'll spare the unprintable details.—Many of the fellows I know in the service had similar experiences. My girl tried to excuse herself to say it was her patriotic feeling that caused all this, that she felt sorry for the men, etc. What are we men fighting for if not the purity of our womanhood, the sanctity of our love and home life?—I still seem to love her. Should I still marry her? I was born June 18, 1917. The girl Sept. 9, 1921.

S/SGT. A. D., WEST COAST.

No, Soldier, don't marry the girl. This advice is given on astrological, rather than moral grounds. You and the girl do not blend well mentally and emotionally (Union Chart afflictions involving Sun, Moon, Saturn and Neptune). The attraction between you is mainly physical and the love between you is merely infatuation.

Don't let this experience embitter you, Soldier. A somewhat lax general morality seems to be an inevitable part of every war, as records indicate. Many young people take the attitude that "We have today, but who knows if there'll be a tomorrow"—and of course most of them find that tomorrow does come, with its regrets. The situation is bad, Friend, yet not nearly as bad as you fear. There are still the majority of fine young women who do not confuse lax morals with patriotism who are too busy helping you boys keep 'em flying, rolling, and firing for Victory, and keep—

ASTROLOGICAL PERSONALITY BRIEFS

By GEORGE MILLER

THERE is pleasure in being able to measure yourself properly, and Astrology is a most accurate scale. The measuring begins at the moment of birth, with the Sun's vital energy as the pivot that orders the force with which you will manage your affairs. Just as the Earth's productivity depends on its relation to the Sun, so your life is governed by the Sun's radiation.

Perhaps, in the remarks here for your Solar group, there is just the one that can help in the development of your personality.

Aries

You are a natural fighter, and you enjoy the contest of a political business, or romantic battle. Because you are aggressive, pioneering is your forte.

As a rule you succeed in any effort where fearlessness and disregard of hazard are required. Your restlessness causes you to make frequent changes in occupation that often involve changes of residence.

You like to win against competition. The wish for victory spurs you to the utmost effort. As a result you attain economic security, and material possessions.

You like to own a well-built house, good furniture, and other substantial property.

Taurus

You take pride in your personal appearance and you like to dress well. Your home reflects good taste, and even elegance.

Your enthusiasm is spontaneous. This helps to make you popular. However, your fondness for flattery is not to your advantage. You can be suave, gentle, reserved, and conservative.

At other times you dramatize your emotions, trying to appear scintillating and brilliant. You want your personality to glitter as a diamond does when it reflects vivid light rays. Above all, you like to attract attention.

Gemini

You have a versatile mind and the traits for factual summation that are invaluable to a successful lawyer or executive. You are progressive and try to keep your work modern, but it is hard for you to stay one place long enough to attain the highest success possible.

Your greatest aspiration is to be prosperous and famous, not for your own sake, but because you are deeply affectionate and want to lay the world at the feet of your beloved.

This desire makes you possessive and acquisitive. Romance is your guidepost, and wealth your goal.

Cancer

The Moon is your zodiacal ruler and this signifies great elasticity of expression. You can be very attractive and you enjoy the whirl of social gaiety. Nature has gifted you with the ability to execute your skill with the most exacting artistic effects. You have the power to rule situations.

You cannot tolerate shabbiness, drabness, or an uninteresting existence. You revel in the gospel of glamour and therefore often have a vital sway over others.

Your enthusiasm makes the spirit of youth an ever-present reality. Morbid thoughts or a sense of growing old have no place in your philosophy.

Leo

You have an idealistic, poetic, artistic nature. Great achievements are ever before your eyes, and beckon you, but you let yourself think that they are beyond your reach when they are not. You are faithful and loyal, and love the society of congenial friends.

You have great psychic power, and rely largely on intuition and inner promptings—a fact that sometimes causes people to criticize you. But do not heed them. Keep your enthusiasm enduring.

Virgo

You have a calculating mind and are delightfully amusing and shrewd. You sometimes scheme to do things but often your method is suspected too far in advance. Possessed with intelligence, you are able to earn money, but your enthusiasm for doing so is not strong.

YOU AND YOUR FIFTH HOUSE

By MITZI NOEE

SOMEWHERE in your wheel of life is your fifth house. Your fifth house has a planetary ruler. It may or may not be in the fifth house. There may be none, one or several planets in the fifth house. All this the astrologer sees as he or she delineates your chart. To most people, whether versed in the education and understanding of Astrology or not, the fifth house proves very interesting, more so than some of the other less obvious houses which deal less with personality and more with materialistic values.

The fifth house in the horoscope concerns ROMANCE so it is no wonder most questions are asked the Astrologer relating to the fifth house since all of us are or have been at some time in our lives very much concerned with romance and its fitting culmination, marriage. Romance as concerned and read with and in a fifth house means love affairs, temporary, or the more abiding variety that terminate in honest to goodness courtship, the most thrilling of all life's interludes. Then following the marriage ceremony, the couple's love affair becomes a seventh house matter. There are in all walks of life various individuals who, due to horoscopic influences in the fifth house, are more interested in a never ending stream of love affairs in preference to the more enduring marriage love affair. Conversely there are others who, not having the aptitudes and inclinations for frivolous love making and courtship, find after marriage that they have found their true niche in the more serious and less ecstatic partnership of real marriage, in preference to the super-idealistic and soft-soap inertia of pre-marital days. All these characteristics and inclinations are read plainly in the fifth house. There are those who never marry for various reasons, chief among them being the lack of emotional warmth in the nature according to the planet ruling or in the fifth house.

Romance and love affairs are not the only mundane affairs ruled by the fifth house. CHILDREN come under this division of the horoscope. There are those who have many children in their homes; others who are denied children of their own, and so must adopt small ones to assuage the longing to care for little ones. Some men and women care nothing for children; their creative ability manifesting along other lines than the physical as in the arts, sciences and literature. The attitudes toward the presence of children varies in individuals. Some like to see children active, noisy and full of life; other prefer the Elsie Dinsmore type. Some like boys; others girls; some adore twins; others shudder at the thought of being blessed or cursed with such double trouble. Some parents appreciate their grown children more than when they were small. Others feel a great loss when their children grow out of babyhood. Planets in and aspects to the fifth house make it possible for the Astrologer to understand these points.

SPECULATION is another matter ruled by the fifth house. This includes all forms of gambling, risks and ventures where the outcome is not known beforehand. An active sign on the cusp of the fifth house, inclines the native to these forms, as there is less of an inclination to premeditate.

ENTERTAINMENT is another matter pertaining to your fifth house. Some people are given much to social diversion; others like to be alone most of the time as people and crowds rob them of equilibrium. The movies, theaters, dance halls, clubs, races etc. are forms of this type of entertainment. A person with a strong planet in or ruling the fifth house would no doubt enjoy horse racing, combining the gambling streak and a form of entertainment.

EDUCATION comes under the influence of the fifth house. Some people given all the opportunities in the world would fail to educate themselves. Others turn out to be self-made men or women due to strong initiative and great ambition. Those with good fifth houses find instruction easy and learning delightful.

And now that we have a knowledge of what matters the fifth house governs, let us delve into the study further and discover what certain signs and planets mean in the fifth house.

Aries on the cusp of the fifth house denotes a passionate person. Taurus in this place makes one idealistic and dreamy. Gemini on the fifth makes one versatile in such matters and fickleness is a general characteristic. Cancer makes one a perpetual lover type with deep emotional tone in the nature. Leo on the fifth inclines to theatrical ability, interest in the drama and make-believe world. Virgo on the cusp of fifth makes one very materialistic in fifth house matters as the nature is predominately mental. Libra on fifth cusp makes one revel in love affairs, much given to appearances for their own sake. Scorpio on fifth inclines to warm-bloodedness, an assertive manner in all fifth house dealings. Sagittarius in this position makes one generous in love and all forms of expression. Capricorn on fifth makes the nature inhibited in these matters, often appearing to be cold and unfeeling. Aquarius on fifth gives a modern twist to these fifth house affairs, lack of regard to conventions and an interest in the new in preference to the tried and proven. Pisces on the fifth house cusp can be the symbol of a genius or rogue, depending on how the native handles the creativeness of compassionate Pisces.

The explanations of the various planets that follow should be considered in conjunction with the sign found on the cusp of your particular fifth house. Example: Aries on cusp of fifth with Mercury in fifth means a more docile person than if Mars were in Aries in fifth.

MARS IN FIFTH HOUSE. . . . You are a dynamic sort of person and you have had more love affairs than you can conveniently remember. Yours is a passionate nature, loving to be loved and feeling great loss when the one you adore at the moment hurts you in any way. It stands to reason you are extremely jealous of your heart throbs, not so much from a fear of losing their interest and adoration but because of sex jealousy, since your nature is possessive in the extreme. You may have remembered in the past how difficult it was for you to turn the discarded suitor over to the next girl or boy who happened to come along. Although you had no desire to continue your association, you nevertheless felt that you had some sort of claim on the person. You may or may not be surprised to hear that you have an abundance of primitive sexuality in your make-up. Being dynamic, you take your fun and diversion where ever you find it and you will never find it in card games unless you play for high stakes; or in reading unless some one dares you to read the latest volume off the press and you set a time limit for the task. This position makes a good dancer in the quick, light steps where the movement is fast. Your idea of children is to have as many as you can conveniently afford to rear to advantage and Mars in fifth usually bestows many children, other aspects being neutral or favorable. As a parent you are the type to be pals with your offspring through the years although you may not be so highly educated in matriculation, you always give the impression of being a well-rounded personality. The fires of creation, individual creative ability, burn brightly within your being. Your sexuality can be diverted to literary fields in written expression; to the arts in handiwork; to recreational games with skill and finesse. Mars in the fifth house gives a youthful and active manner and attitude to the older person.

VENUS IN FIFTH. . . . Your type is the glorified lover, male or female, the Browning-Barrett romancers. You see love as the all important plane of life. All nature responds to your five senses, intensifying your reactions to life and God, the giver of all love. You feel that you have never truly lived until you have fallen deeply and truly in love and yours may be the sacrificial type of love. . . as, I did not marry him or her to save this person from myself. You are so liable to feel yourself incapable of the heights of joyous, intermingling love, and it is your one necessity. Your children, and there may be several in your home, may be too well cared for, too shielded from life and its rough edges. You are the eternal mother type; the protective father type. You take your amusements and entertainment with easy grace. The Venusian manner is always spotted in any gathering by the friendly, interested attitude, the exact balancing or subservience and dominance. You are the type to give spare time to general education, a study of foreign languages, latest books on current topics, child welfare, personality courses. You are the graceful waltzer type; the Strauss waltzes being your favorites. You could be an interior decorator, a writer of love fiction, a first rate home maker. You have learned probably that the nicities of courtship days appeal to you far more than the plebian aspects of marriage and routine tasks. Your idealistic nature likes to dream to well even while the toast burns to a crisp.

MERCURY IN FIFTH. . . . Sign on the dotted line could well be your unspoken motto in love affairs. You are not swayed by sheer emotionalism so if you feel drawn to one of the opposite sex, you immediately want to know the advantages and disadvantages. You

ARIES – Oct. - Nov.

For Those Born March 21 - April 19

★ Arbitration of misunderstandings is well-expected during the first days of October.

THE GOOD Sun influences which operate through your 7th solar house beginning with September 24 continue through October 23, bringing some good opportunities for those of you Ariens who have been too much alone. You are generally popular through this period, and this is especially so as concerns your superiors if you work for others. This is not an especially good time for new romances, as your judgment of the other sex is poor during adverse aspects, but business partnerships and working agreements with others should prosper. Difficulties and former misunderstandings with others could be straightened out to advantage now.

Arbitration is recommended rather than arguing and going to law.

Beginning October 24 and enduring through November 22 is a cycle that is almost purely financial in its positive phases. You profit through those who are connected with you rather than from your own astuteness and aggressiveness. This is a good time to take up any matter concerning legacies or joint property. You will find the other interested parties willing to compromise and cooperate with you. If you didn't complete any contemplated partnership agreements before this period began, it would be best to postpone such matters, as this cycle is recommended for unions already formed, rather than inaugurating new ones.

On November 23 you are ushered into a cycle of fine mental achievement, but you will read more about this in our December-January issue, as the period extends well into December.

Aries Daily Guide For October

Fri. Oct. 1: You start the month with a neutral morning, but afternoon is excellent for pushing any legal or financial matter, especially good for talking over monetary affairs with your marriage or business partner.

Sat. Oct. 2: This afternoon is much like yesterday. Home finances could be talked over and budgets arranged. Use care to avoid accidents at home or elsewhere in late afternoon and early evening. Guard against theft tonight.

TAURUS — Oct. - Nov.

For Those Born April 20 - May 20

★ Conferences with your boss bring good results now

THE PERIOD

which began for you Taurians late in September, and which continues through the first twenty-three days of October, should be a conservative one, especially as regards physical and mental exertions which might undermine your health. This is not a time for aggressive conduct or scheming for financial gain. Your best channels lie in quiet and unpublishized service to your country and those around you. This is a good employment period if you will be careful to conserve your energies and at the same time make every movement count on your job. Conferences and chats between employer and employee are recommended now, whether you are at the top or the bottom of the arrangement. Don't overdo socially nor dissipate in any way during this period.

October 24 begins a month of fine cooperative influences. This is the time to attract anyone to you whom you may need in any department of your life, the influence applying to business as well as the social side of your existence. Engaged Taurians should arrange to marry during this period if possible, although the period is a bit questionable for the beginning of a romance. If you are attracted to a new friend or sweetheart, think things over soberly during GOOD aspects of the Sun and of your ruling Venus, then go ahead with confidence. Your judgment of the other sex is likely to be unsound during adverse aspects. If your personal chart is afflicted, shun romance during this period.

November 24 opens up a cycle of sound business and prosperous financial affairs, but this will be more fully covered in our December-January issue. Watch for it.

GEMINI – Oct. - Nov.

For Those Born May 21 - June 20

★ Children are a source of pleasure to you during the first days of October.

THE "LUCKY BREAK" period

which began for you Gemini people late in September and which endures through October 23 is the high spot of the year for you as concerns social life, relaxation and good fortune in chance-taking. Now you gain through speculation if it is at all indicated for you. You should, of course, conform to the anti-inflationary measures of the government and thus shun too extravagant spending, but pleasures of all kinds are well-aspected for you and, within the limits of patriotic conduct, you'll probably want to spend a bit and enjoy yourself. Children inspire you, and you'd be surprised how much they can teach you. Try to be among these very young people of the coming generation. Be gay, young, glad you're alive

October 24 ushers in some perhaps trying influences through your cadent 6th solar house. Your recuperative power at this time is far from good and it would be well to treat even minor ailments as you ordinarily would care for major ones. By using health precautions, however, you can probably make this a very good employment period. You are at your best in dealing with superiors now and little chats about your work would pay big dividends. This is a time for giving out especially as concerns charitable and patriotic work. You can be of great service to the war effort. If your work schedule prohibits this type of thing, you can at least buy war stamps and bonds until it hurts. You will profit by this in some way.

LEO - Oct. - Nov.

For Those Born July 23 - August 22

★ You impress strangers favorably during the first days of October.

THE fine mental cycle which began for you Leo folk on September 24 carries through October 23, bringing with it the respect and good will of relatives and some indication that you will travel either for business or pleasure. The latter is very good, as you are inspired by new people and new surroundings. You impress strangers favorably and could make some worthwhile new friends during this period. But whether or not war restrictions prohibit travel, you can let your active mind soar untrammelled into new and hitherto unknown fields. You learn easily and grasp new theories quickly. Some new course of study would benefit you now. Choose learned and appreciative companions and you will find yourself a better and wiser person when this cycle is ended.

October 24 ushers in a month of good financial opportunities, especially in such lines as lands, houses and city real estate. This could also be a period of increased prestige for you, especially if you can enlist the aid of elderly friends and relatives in achieving the realization of your dreams and ambitions. If there is a legacy in the offing, your expectations could become realities now and if there is any problem about family or joint property, this would be a good time to settle it. Avoid speculation, as this is not one of the forms of good fortune promised during this period. Take the advice of your parents and elders before investing money or committing yourself to the future.

Your chief danger lies in difficulties with the mate or family, so be especially diplomatic during bad aspects of your ruling Sun and thus avoid estrangement and coldness between you and family members.

VIRGO - Oct. - Nov.

For Those Born August 23 - September 22

★ Take out your spending urge in buying war bonds.

The first twenty-three days of October constitute a continuation of the cycle which began for you Virgo natives on September 24. During this cycle, you are likely to find yourself in a somewhat subordinate position, but this does not prohibit some very good gain in your employment or regular business. The money you make now will be obtained through industrious effort and assiduous attention to details, and through the favor of your parents or superiors. You may be given added responsibility but this is likely to be of a minor nature and under the direction of another. Your chief danger during this time lies in a tendency toward extravagant spending. If you must spend, invest your money in war bonds and stamps.

A fine mental period opens up for you on October 24 and endures through November 22. Your mind is resourceful and creative. You are ambitious and fully capable of realizing at least part of the betterment you desire for yourself. You may be restless, and somewhat cramped by wartime restrictions on travel but there is some indication that you will at least be able to escape from your immediate environment. Try to spend some time in exploring new theories, as you grasp new truths easily now. This would be a good time to take up a new line of steady or acquired new skill in your chosen profession. From October 24 through November 22, you are likely to work for what you get. Your gains come through industrious effort, strict attention to your job and the impression this attitude makes upon your superiors. Elderly relatives and associates can and will help you now although this may amount to no more than giving you good counsel and advice. Ask for this advice and follow it if it is given. This annual cycle of your life often brings added responsibility although it rarely carries authority with it. You are, therefore, likely to work under the direction of others.

Your chief danger lies in a too-strong love of pleasures which involve extravagant spending. This should be avoided, as it is out of line with present national trends.

PISCES – Oct. - Nov.

For Those Born February 19 - March 20

★ Finances between married partners are well-aspected in October.

FINANCES, especially financial partnerships, are stressed for you Pisceans during the period which began during the last week in September and which extends through October 23. This naturally includes the financial side of marriage, since your prosperity is closely interlocked with that of your marriage partner. Marriages contracted during this period are likely to be more material than romantic. It is thus a good time for unions between elderly folk who are past the definitely romantic stage and who are looking forward to security in later life. All types of co-working agreements, investment pools and business partnerships entered into during this period should prosper.

The cycle beginning October 24 is one of the most interesting of the year for you. Your activities should include some church or educational work and you should find some excuse for travel, within wartime restrictions, of course. You are likely to want to investigate something of a scientific nature and will probably become interested in philosophy. Try to get in some good study for you are receptive at this time. Share the truths you learn with others, as you will gain by this in some occult and not too apparent way. You could advance yourself spiritually by church work and religious discussion.

Your chief danger lies in becoming legally entangled over financial matters or adopting some falacious religious belief. These dangers are mainly confined to the hours of critical planetary aspects.

You are due for some good publicity or local honor during the period which begins on November 23. More about this in our December-January issue.

Sun. Nov. 7: A strong morning. You're popular and forceful and can exert a strong influence on those around you. Use this wisely and honestly.

Mon. Nov. 8: Hold all social contacts until evening, then either visit or entertain relatives. You're tops with female kin, can get help and inspiration from them. Write or visit your mother if this is possible in your circumstances.

Tues. Nov. 9: A neutral day is followed by a good social evening. Good also for a semi-business, semi-social meeting with someone who is important to you.

Wed. Nov. 10: A grand mental day, your mind being especially keen when working on problems concerning your employment and living conditions. Good for changes.

Thurs. Nov. 11: Doubtful. Attend to minor matters; wait for better days.

Fri. Nov. 12: Watch out for home spats this morning. Take no definite stand about domestic matters. Evening is better—good for a party at home with relatives or friends invited. Good for romance if you're at that stage of life.

Sat. Nov. 13: A rather negative morning. Don't buy or sell property today.

Sun. Nov. 14: Largely negative. Act to prevent extravagance and indiscretion on the part of youthful family members if you're the family head.

Mon. Nov. 15: Sorrow and losses are threatened today because of your unwise conduct.

Don't gamble or speculate in any way. Be careful around the other sex.

Tues. Nov. 16: Daylight hours are neutral. Evening offers innocent fun and pleasure in mixed company. Try to get out among lively, lighthearted people.

Wed. Nov. 17: A good day for anything that concerns your employment, or your dealings with employees if others work for you. Advantageous adjustments are likely.

Thurs. Nov. 18: Daylight and evening hours are neutral. Go on your own.

Fri. Nov. 19: Noon through early afternoon promises an opportunity to cheer or help some unfortunate person. Generosity is the keynote for the day.

Sat. Nov. 20: You are attracted to others today, but stay aloof until late afternoon, at which time you might find a new and very worthwhile friend.

Sun. Nov. 21: Watch out for smoothies of the other sex around noon today. You're susceptible and could be victimized. Make no new friends or alliances.

Mon. Nov. 22: Late morning through noon is good for all partnership affairs. Good for general finance, legal matters, joint property settlements. You'd make a good financial agent for your family or group now. You think clearly.

Tues. Nov. 23: A very good financial day, especially as concerns dealings and agreements between you and your mate or partner—who will be generous.

Wed. Nov. 24: This is a grand mental day. Your mind is receptive, creative and keen. Try to do something creative such as writing or inventive work.

Thurs. Nov. 25: This should be a grand holiday because your mind is brilliant and you're a fine companion for friends and relatives. You'll attract others.

Fri. Nov. 26: Afternoon and evening are much like yesterday. You can work out your toughest problem with ease today if you avoid being side-tracked by prejudice. A good time to correspond with servicemen and women.

Sat. Nov. 27: Your popularity is assured this morning: You are forceful and persuasive. Ask for recognition and publicity and you'll get it. Take feminine advice.

Sun. Nov. 28: Rather negative until late morning, after which you can just about write your own ticket with the public. You are impressive to others.

Mon. Nov. 29: Don't put too much dependence in friends or business associates this morning for they may let you down. Depend on yourself, ask no favors.

Tues. Nov. 30: Much like yesterday. Keep your own counsel, tell no secrets.

HOW TO USE IT

Make all decisions and begin actions 30 minutes before time of aspect. War time is used. First column shows aspects, second shows time of aspects. In third column G means good, A means adverse, D means doubtful. Fourth column shows key figures which refer to aspect chart below the Aspectarian. For instance, 03 after an aspect, means Moon to Venus—if good is good for partnerships, marriage, social life, as referred to in ASPECT CHART.

The Libra new Moon of September 29, 1943, 6:21 a.m., T.L.T. at Washington, D. C. closely follows the Equinox chart and carries the latter trend into execution. There is a change in pattern and a stepping-up of diplomatic tempo as well as naval operations, foreign shipping and state department activities. President Roosevelt gains ascendancy in international policies and affairs.

A secret or under-cover move towards separate peace is likely to transpire but could hardly prove successful. The time is not ripe because Venus refuses to cooperate with Uranus. Dissatisfaction on the part of our populace about rationing and other government restrictions will be intensified and Congress will be spurred to oppose the actions of the administration. Mercury square Saturn bodes ill for enemy negotiations for peace. There is a connection of this chart to that of Hitler, bearing upon official and congressional action having to do with Hitler's defeat.

Scorpio new Moon at Washington, D. C., October 28th, 1943 at 8:51 P.M. T.L.T.

The Scorpio new Moon occurs in the fifth compartment of the Washington, D. C. chart on October 29, 1943, 8:51 p.m. T.L.T. This is the locality that governs diplomacy and foreign policies. More locally, it has a bearing on children, amusements, speculation and investments. Mercury (communications, conferences, etc.) is on the fifth cusp in Libra (negotiations, peace, cooperation) and forms a good working trine with Saturn in the twelfth house, the latter house being directly connected to the President's management of the war. Saturn is in the compartment of under-cover negotiations, bureaus and labor unions. Mars in this locality at the place of his own natal zodiacal spot in the U. S. chart. Uranus is exactly where he was at the birth of the United States. Something is brewing and it can be very important indeed.

The President dominates the map with his seventh-house progressed Mercury on the Midheaven and Uranus (personal application, governmental action) on the fourth cusp, signifying finale.

Venus by transit is in the personal department of the President, indicating the limelight for him in some international negotiations. Planetary configurations show discord rather than amity at this time but the situation modifies following the movement of Venus from Virgo to Libra on November 10. At this time, a conjunction occurs with Neptune at the full Moon of November 11. This opens up new possibilities regarding the European situation. Hitler's South Node (point of trouble) rises with the full Moon ascendant at Washington, which is a bad indication for the dictator. Events at this time will be highly interesting to watch.

The market operators will do well to watch these days for changes in the stock trend due to world events. The November 10 and 11 configuration is perhaps the most exciting until the conjunction of Mars and Uranus on January 16, 1944 as the Moon passes over the Autumnal Equinox point referred to in the first part of this article.

THIRD-TERM CHART

ler. Saturn had returned to his own locality—international 9th house—in the Roosevelt chart.

Ascendant 18 degrees Taurus: This is the zodiacal area of Venus conjunction Mars in Hitler's 7th house of war, and shows Hitler as detrimental to the U.S., an indication of war with Germany because Mars (planet of war) is the international sign Sagittarius, in this Inauguration chart. This connects with the following charts: Germany, Italy, Japan, the Axis Alliance chart (Saturn and Jupiter positions). It is the same as the Japanese Constitution Chart Ascendant and Progressed Venus (ruler). It is the same as Mussolini 7th cusp, (sector of war), conjunction with the Mussolini Neptune, showing Mussolini unfavorable to Roosevelt and the U. S. Conjunction Jupiter-Pluto opposition Sun in the chart of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, links the U. S. to Italy in war.

The full Moon of November 12, 1943 (see chart with this article), 19 degrees Taurus-Scorpio, falls across the ascendant of the Inauguration chart near to rising Uranus. This throws President Roosevelt into the limelight connected with world events which transpire with and following this Full Moon. Germany and Italy are the focal points. It is the same ascendant as the Third Reich chart so a strong possibility exists that the full Moon can draw the U. S. and Germany together in negotiations—of course, under full agreement with our Allies. Also the same as Mercury opposition Pluto in the chart of Winston Churchill of England.

Uranus 23 degrees Taurus: Same as the 4th cusp of Pearl Harbor. Uranus always represents the element of surprise.

2nd cusp 16 degrees Gemini: Locality of Jupiter at the time of Pearl Harbor. Jupiter was at this point when war was declared against the Axis.

3rd cusp 7 degrees Cancer: Place of Moon (public) in official 10th house of President Roosevelt's chart. Venus-Jupiter locality in the U. S. horoscope.

4th cusp 28 degrees Cancer: Zodiacal position of the Moon at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Neptune 27 degrees Virgo retrograde in 5th house (colonial affairs): Adverse to Mars in President Roosevelt's chart. Deception on the part of Jap envoys over war issue.

6th cusp (army, food, labor) 1 degree Libra: Place of transit Venus and Neptune at full Moon November 12, 1943.

Moon 3 degrees Scorpio in 6th house

(army): This point is activated by the new Moon of October 29, 1943.

Mars in the foreign-land sign Sagittarius 11 degrees in 7th house (war): Opposition progressed Uranus in U. S. chart, an area identified with food, government regulations, war and aviation. This area activated in 1943. Quebec conference occurred August 1943 as progressed Moon passed Mars in the Inauguration chart.

8th cusp, 16 degrees Sagittarius: Position of Sun at the time of Pearl Harbor attack. Progressed Moon arrives at this point in January, 1944, bringing important happenings in our war with Japan.

Venus 8 degrees Capricorn: Foreign relations and global warfare are affected as are our relations with our Allies. Events worth watching should follow January 20, 1944.

THE MIGHTY HAVE FALLEN!

(tenth) made the square of birth-chart Mars, and progressed Mercury was in luck (trine) aspect with the Moon, ruling the people. It was this latter aspect that enabled him to become popular.

Followed years of constructive work, in which Italy was given efficient government, and in which Mussolini gained in prestige. And with the feeling of his own great significance also came the dream of reestablishing the old Roman Empire, with the Mediterranean an Italian Sea.

In October, 1935, when progressed Venus was conjunction progressed Sun in the house of honor (tenth), and progressed Mars was semi-square coercive Pluto in the house of war, he took the first military step toward the fulfillment of that dream. He invaded Ethiopia. The League of Nations exerted the group pressure on him characteristic of the aspect to Pluto; but his Venus and Sun conjunction enabled him successfully to withstand that pressure, and Ethiopia became Italian soil.

During the following five years progressed Sun and progressed Venus remained in prominence (conjunction) aspect, and in 1940 both came to the trine of Pluto in the house of partnership and war. When Hitler overran France he thought here was a new plum to fall into the lap of his Roman Empire, and with little sacrifice. He stabbed France in the back, thus entered the war as a partner of Hitler, and on September 27, gained still another nefarious partner, Japan, by signing the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo Axis.

But luckily for the rest of the world, he had another progressed aspect that caused his plans to be thwarted; for progressed Mercury was sesqui-square birth-chart Saturn in the house of war. The quick victory for the Axis which he had envisioned was not only delayed in a manner characteristic of Saturn, but as the conjunction of progressed Venus and progressed Sun in the house of honor (tenth) separated, his prestige fell.

The winter of 1942-43 brought progressed Mercury, co-ruler of the house of honor (tenth), square Venus, and witnessed the loss of Italy's African Empire.

Then came the summer of 1943, with the progressed positions as they are given around the outside of the accompanying chart. Progressed Mercury is still not only square Venus, but it is also square Mars, which has moved up to the conjunction with Venus in the house of death (eighth). Progressed Venus has also moved up to the agitation (sesqui-square) aspect with progressed Neptune, which when afflicted is the planet of chaos. And on the day he resigned, and knew that he had led Italy not into participation in world dominance, but into disaster, progressed Moon was adding accessory energy to progressed Mercury by making a sextile with it.

HENRY WALLACE

part of the Wallace natal planetary pattern.

Jupiter operates on a big scale. He is the planet of philosophy, judgment, law, science and religion. When an expanding influence exists at times of unsound thinking, the conduct of the one affected is likely to transcend sound reason and ordinary practical limits. What generally occurs is enlarged visionary plans and Utopian schemes. Since Neptune is related to speculation and Jupiter is identified with finance, there is always danger of extravagant and irresponsible spending in an effort to back up and put into action unsound theories. The fact that humanitarian intentions were behind Mr. Wallace's actions did not lessen the adverse results of the error.

Mystic Temperament

A rising Neptune in Gemini is the key to the mystic tendencies and thought processes of Mr. Wallace. Neptune is a planet of mysticism. There is no fault to find with Mr. Wallace because of this. Jesus was one of the great mystics of his age. The tendency of mysticism is to lead us to a higher level and broaden our range of thoughts along spiritual and religious lines. It intensifies our interest in this psychic, occult, supernatural and spiritual life.

Although Mr. Wallace's mystic temperament has got him into political hot water more than once, it has its asset value, pointing the way to new reforms that we must eventually make if we are to be a great nation spiritually as well as materially.

It was Hitler who brought the terms "mysticism" and "intuition" into disrepute in the minds of the people. This was because he employed these faculties for destructive purposes. Hitler is the very symbol of negative mysticism and no student of occult theory is surprised that because of this abuse of what is a very good thing if properly used, the Nazi leader suffered from an actual failure of intuition.

Returning to Mr. Wallace, there is no question but that he is a constructive type of mystic. But in reading his star map, we cannot accept the combination of Jupiter opposition Neptune and Pluto as an indication of healthy mysticism and we can but expect that he will continue to advocate policies which will not stand the test of practical application. Should he rise to higher office, which is unlikely if he must depend upon his own political popularity, his tenure of office would be marked by confusion and difficulties.

In common with many Librans, the Vice-President finds it difficult to maintain balance. He makes enthusiastic friends and bitter enemies, lacking the ability to side-step controversial issues, which is the prime requisite for successful politics.

The student of Astrology does not have to look far to find the reason for some of Mr. Wallace's unwise policies and utterances concerning agriculture and food. These are sponsored by the important combination of Moon (public), Venus (cooperation) and Mercury (speech, communication, publicity and the conveyance of plans and ideas) in his chart, in the important compartment of food, supplies, labor, health and the public, forming a square (frustration) aspect to the planet Saturn in his division of land and crops.

Executive Ability

Actually, rather than the inept political blunderer which he often appears to be, Mr. Wallace is an efficient and forceful statesman, an agreeable and likeable friend. He is peacefully inclined but has some fine fighting qualities in him (Mars and Jupiter in Sagittarius) as his recent opponent in a well-known political debate, Jesse Jones, will agree. This political battle in itself would make a very good astrological study. The opening guns were fired on July 5, 1943. Jesse Jones was born April 5, 1874, with some 15 degrees Aries, which is in direct opposition to Sun 15 degrees Libra at the time of Wallace's birth. The new Moon of July 2 occurred in the area of the zodiac which governs speech, letters and publicity in the Wallace chart—in the sign of Cancer (public and U. S. officialdom).

It so happens that the Sun in the U. S. chart is 13 degrees Cancer, in square (discordant) aspect to the Sun's position in the charts of both Wallace and Jones. This was a convenient situation for the transit Sun of July 16 to excite into combative action. Mercury (publicity, correspondence and statements) further stirred up the issue by entering Cancer on the 6th of July just as the press was playing up the official dispute by these two high-ranking officials.

The conjunction of Sun and Uranus in sextile to Saturn (organizer, manager) and Mars (leadership, command) shows Mr. Wallace to be an official and sincere administrator. It is in the matter of policy rather than administration that Mr. Wallace fails. This is clearly shown in his horoscope.

The Wallace World Program

The planet Saturn (unlimited ambitions) in the rulership and executive sign Leo in his career department activated Hitler's grandiose plan to rule the world. Saturn in the same sign Leo, but in the land and agricultural products department of the Wallace chart has given rise to Mr. Wallace's plan to feed the world. It was typically impractical of him not to set forth just how the American people (Moon) are to be reimbursed (square Saturn in Wallace chart) for producing and releasing their products to the world.

The great expanding impulse of the United States lost planetary support on June 30, 1943. Since then we have been largely "running on the battery" or on the momentum gathered up to July, 1943. The stimuli for our present period of excitement ceases on June 15, 1944. After that there is an indication that our enthusiasm for world-wide philanthropy will suffer an ebb-tide.

Mr. Wallace's Future

There has been a great deal of recent publicity to the effect that the Vice-President is to be shelved politically. This rumor largely arises from the ranks of Mr. Wallace's political opponents. South Node (point of trouble) is in the sector of politics and international affairs in the Wallace chart, at the place of Pluto in the U. S. chart.

This is not a good omen for Mr. Wallace's activities on behalf of the United States and could not recommend his assignment to head anti-international program. Still, advanced positions of the Wallace chart indicate that he will be given important duties which may be on an even vaster scope than those assigned to him up to this time.

Progressed Saturn and Uranus in continuing sextile aspects is a strong indicator for government service. Progressed Jupiter sextile radix Sun could easily tie Mr. Wallace in to some great world program. Mars moving to the trine of Neptune and Pluto sponsors gigantic official undertakings of a Utopian character.

With Sun in Libra at his birth, he is connected by a conjunction with the U. S. Saturn (land, economics, labor and agriculture) with the present political picture.

A sudden, unexpected event (Uranus close to the Wallace Sun) could project him into a situation of wider influence and authority.

YOUR MYSTIC LIFE

was suffering some kind of acute attack, alone in her house. This was so clear and real that without thinking about the logic of it I just rushed out to her house three blocks away. Getting no answer to my knock, I just went in, the door was unlocked, and there, exactly as in my vision, I found Mrs. C. lying unconscious. After reviving and treating her, the physician I called told me that the prompt action no doubt had saved her life. . . . Strangely, Mrs. C. did not remember having seen me before my unceremonious entrance into her house!

Mrs. M. T. Stastny, Cicero, Illinois.

Had Mrs. Stastny stopped to think of "the logic" of her action, she might not have answered that clairvoyant call for help. How often is not intuitive knowledge and feeling proven superior to materialistic logic! The above is a case of present-time clairvoyance, i.e., the psychic or inward "seeing" of an event at the exact time it is taking place at a distance, or beyond the apprehension of the physical eyesight.

DREAM PROVES HER INNOCENCE

Dear Miss Dahl and Friends: I was a young girl, had just taken my first job as a maid with a wealthy family in Paris who had four other servants that had been with them for years. A week after I had been working for them a theft took place, in American money the equal of $200. The circumstantial evidence was against me, the loot having been hidden in the halbox in my clothes closet. Evidently the thief was awaiting the opportunity to take the cash from the house, but meanwhile wanted to make certain it would not be implicating her, should the theft be discovered. It was late at night when my employer discovered his cash to be missing. Because I was the new servant he and the mistress (without informing the other servants) came and searched my room. They found it there. They were religious people, said if I would repent before God and confess my crime they would not feel impelled to give over the matter to the police; but if I did not, then the evidence would send me to jail. As it was late at night, they locked me in and gave me until the morning to decide. All night I prayed, awake, that a just Providence shall save me. In the morning early, my prayer was answered: My mistress came to me saying that a good God had saved them from making a terrible mistake; in the dream she had plainly seen the real thieves, and that they had stolen also other things which had been undiscovered until now. My mistress confronted the guilty servants with her knowledge, and they confessed, each convinced that the other conspirator had implicated her. Thus was justice attained through intervention of the Power unseen.

Andree Lamartine, Montreal, Quebec

The above is an excellent example of the past-time clairvoyant type of dream in which events are seen in review as clearly as though actually taking place before one's eyes. In this case, no doubt involuntary telepathy (thought transmission) took place from the guilty consciences of the culprits involved, and the mind of their mistress.

IN TUNE WITH THE MAILMAN?

Dear Christina Dahl: I have seen cases of experiences like mine in your ESP column before, such as that of Ann Benjamine, of the Church of Light; but perhaps you can use it even though it is on "old story," no doubt. I am a commercial artist and have my studio right in my home. I receive a great deal of mail daily. Almost every single morning just before awakening I will dream about the letters I am to receive in the mail two or three hours later. I will not see in my dream the unimportant letters, but only the one or two or three which later are to impress me the most. I "see" these important letters before they arrive, whether they are from total strangers (prospective customers, etc.) or from dear friends—their relationship to me does not seem to make any difference. Long ago I used to think I must be "in tune with" my mailman. But that seems doubtful, especially since the war when we have new mailmen so often. One morning lately I happened to be out front watering my flower-bed when the newest mailman came along. I had dreamt of receiving an important letter from a town in Mexico (where, I must point out, I had no clients or friends). When he handed me my mail, I quickly glanced over it—but, no letter from Mexico! I impulsively called him back asking if he was sure he hadn't overlooked one from Mexico for me. He looked again. Sure enough, there it was, the letter I'd dreamed about, the exact same postmark! Commented the mailman: "He writes you right on time, don't he?" However, I thought I'd better not explain!

Marion D. Stroheim,
Portland, Maine

Of course the most probable explanation is that Miss Stroheim does temporarily get "in tune with" the mailman, or whichever postal employee happens to be handling or sorting her mail at the hour when she is still asleep! That is, according to the facts given above. Many of us will recall that in the case of Mrs. Benjamine, however, prevision seemed to be involved, as in the instances where she was able to "see" (in a dream state) the peculiar arrangement of the letters (envelops of many sizes, shapes, etc.) in her mailbox, and hours later, discovered the mailman had put them in the box in just that same pattern as in her dream. A great many people we have talked to, who conduct professional or business matters extensively by mail, appear to have this type of psychic experience quite frequently.

COLDS

anger, etc. and tests show this state of mind changes the chemistry of body fluids by charging them with self-generated poisons.

In an Eastern college thirty co-eds offered their blood to the Red Cross and two of them had blood healthy enough to give to their brothers in the armed forces. The failure of people to recognize and DO something about maintaining radiant health is due to neglect and indifference coupled with ignorance of the facts. The high-tension tempo of these times make it imperative to "wake up America" on all fronts.

Why can radiant health keep out the cold germ or any germ? Science is beginning to realize the contention of metaphysicians that our bodies are interpenetrated by a vital force, an ether which is so strong that it radiates from our bodies like a heat wave from a radiator. This ether comes through the spleen from the outside and is specialized in the solar plexus for our use.

This etheric fluid exudes from the whole body carrying off poisonous gases from the food we consume, chosen mainly because we "like" it, instead of for its clean nutritional properties. As long as the radiation is strong enough to overcome our dietary mistakes we seem to be O. K. For this force also keeps out dangerous microbes. But the moment the vital body is overworked it becomes weakened, just like any other organ and in come the invading bacteria where they soon gain a foothold on some vital organ or tissue.

Now the prevention of cold narrows down to keeping this vitality surging strongly from every pore of the body. The flow of life force will be sufficient to ward off offenders in nearly all cases. The only exception is possibly an extremely weak body at birth. Naturally the cure is to open these life giving channels.

Here is the best way to cure that cold. Stay in bed, have a box of cold tablets and three big rich meals brought in for the day. Then open the windows, throw out the medicine and the food. Leave the windows open, cover up and drink all the water and lemon juice you can during the next 24 hours. It might be well to have a book to read on eating for health. Naturally, open the bowels with an enema or a vegetable laxative, or both for the enema can clean the large intestine only.

"Stuffing a cold and starving a fever" is an old superstition that has as much basis as wearing a copper ring for rheumatism, a rabbit's foot for luck etc. because a cold is a fever. Not malaria, scarlet etc. but none the less a fever—often turning to pneumonia, "flu" etc. where fever is the predominant feature.

Some people are more susceptible to colds and coughs than others and are sneezing, coughing and sniffing or laid up a large part of the time. Astrologically this type is indicated by Saturn, afflicted, in Aries and Uranus, afflicted in Taurus. Mars, adverse in Gemini and Sagittarius, Uranus, adverse, in Taurus and Cancer and Mercury afflicted, in Sagittarius. Others are not immune but this type must be doubly cautious in order to avoid serious complications.

Food poisons clog and close the pores, and the life ethers seeking an outlet through them are blocked. The result is that the whole body becomes anesthetized by the imprisoned poisonous gases and will not respond to nervous impulses much better than a drunken man or one under an artificial anesthetic. The blood then becomes partly liquified and inhibits the physiological part of the blood stream and the whole stream becomes a breeding ground for cold bacteria. Now, is it not simple to see that we generate within ourselves these microbes that form the mucus or pus known as a cold?

This is merely another example of the law of cause and effect. Nothing can come to you that is not yours, even a cold. If you deserve a healthy vital body you must make or earn it yourself. Nature will help you. In fact, She has put and maintains everything you need at your disposal.

Cheerfulness, especially when you feel otherwise, outranks diet in health, even as vastly important as diet is. We have seen people, who seem to violate all commonsense in eating and live to a ripe old age, with little sickness. These people always have the corners of their mouths curved, ready to smile and a happy, optimistic glint in their eyes that seems to say "I am expecting something wonderful to happen to me."

ASTROLOGY HANDWRITING

the drifter; and too much will power gives us the dominating despot. In Astrology these conditions are produced, or indicated by adverse aspects between planets. In Grapho-Analysis they are indicated by over-emphasis and exaggeration of certain pen strokes. You can depend on it that any handwriting showing any exaggeration of slant, capital letters, curves, angles, etc., indicates a lack of balance somewhere in the character of the writer.

Venus in Capricorn

I happen to know two charming young ladies who are cultured, well educated, refined, but at heart are regular little gold diggers. Both of them crave a continuous procession of admiring men bringing gifts, invitations to dinner, theater, etc., with a musical jingle of unlimited currency in their pockets. Here is the handwriting of one of them:

I love you
it whatever

(Copy E)

Do you see what I see? Those long terminals ending in hooks? You need look no further. Any writing full of hooks indicates only one thing: that the writer is out to "Hook" something. It may be money, social position, intellectual superiority and recognition or any of a hundred different things. Some Graphologists ascribe this hook to ambition. So it is, in a way, but usually not a very good way—a way that is always acquisitive. Stop, look, and listen whenever you come across anyone whose writing is full of hooks.

Turning about the view point—You have a friend who is very vivacious, talkative, ambitious and egotistical. Her manners are rather gushing and she is always getting into some embarrassing scrape through her exaggerations. She has a way of making you feel that you are the one person in the world who can help her. How do you think she would write? Talkative? Her o's and a's would be open at the top. Ambitious? the crossings of her "t's" would be very long and probably high on the stem. Egotistical? Her letter "d" would have a very high stem; either looped or a single line. Egotistical? Capital letters over-large. Gushing? Capital letters ornate. Exaggerations? Excessively large loops. Then after you have noted these features you casually discover that she has Mercury square Jupiter in her chart.

Her Way Not Yours

You may have a friend who has Mars in Taurus square Sun in Leo, trine Jupiter in Virgo, who insists on having things her way—not yours. Her writing would have dominating downward terminals; angular rather than curved letters; high letters above the line probably without loops; a hook or two and long "t" crossings.

ill and you that anything

(Copy F)

Then at some time or other you will meet the Saturnian sob sister who weeps on your shoulder from unrequited love; disappointed ambition; or sorrow for her hard luck in this world because no one appreciates her. Of course she is over-emotional and much abused (in her own mind). She will probably write something like this:

have a boy him but will feel he he hasn't

(Copy G)

A strong slant to the right; weak terminals, especially the "t's" that follow back up the stem and fade away with a right hand curve. The writing will have a generally weak appearance as if the letters were about to topple over in a faint; and she will make you feel that you must catch and support all her troubles and set the world right for her with some magic formula.

INDIAN ZODIAC

this wampum in signing all kinds of treaties, thereby heralding it as a most valuable earthly possession.

GEMINI: The Sign of the twins and in Indian symbology denotes duality in the sense of Good Luck and Bad Luck. Indians seldom have twins. Some tribes claim it to be a blessing by the Gods. Other tribes accept it as a dire omen. If, during the previous autumn the prospective parent sees two ears of corn growing together, one with a white tassel and one with a red, and the eye first falls on the latter tassel there will be abundance during the coming year.

CANCER: Modern Astrology identifies the Sign Cancer with the mother. The Indians associated this time of the year with the Maternal Grandmother, whose duty was to carry the sacred arrows of flame from the Moon back and forth to the Earth and Sun. She carried this flame until the latter part of July when the Sun enters its own abode the Fire Sign Leo wherein the Sun shines in its greatest splendence.

LEO: The Indian Keeper of the Sacred Fire symbolized by a chieftan with eagle feather war bonnet. Fire symbols pointing down denotes his ability of being Keeper of the Sacred Fire emanating from the Sun during this hot season.

VIRGO: The symbology is the same in all astrological systems and depicts the harvest. In Indian symbology the Earth is growing a stalk of corn that has blossomed and is ready for harvest. Another symbol identified with this Sign was a Cachina maiden and an ear of corn growing from the earth.

LIBRA: The planet Venus rules love and Libra. The Santa Clara Pueblos depicted this Sign as a pottery loving cup with two mouthpieces which suggest to the modern astrologer a balance much the same as the Scales in the present day system.

SCORPIO: The coiled Serpent. The time of the year when the Indians conducted their Harvest Councils sitting in a circle to represent the Serpent. At this time the Serpent starts to coil itself up to sleep underground. Scorpio, in modern Astrology, means the underworld. The Indians claimed that this was the time when the Eagle, ruled by Scorpio, flies low to take the message from the underworld to the Sky Father.

SAGITTARIUS: The Hunting Season, therefore, the Indian pictorialized this period as the time when the archer was particularly skilled in the use of his bow to hunt deer, wild turkey, pheasant.

CAPRICORN: Capricorn is an earth Sign and at this time of the year the Indian observed that the Goat fertilized the earth for future abundance.

AQUARIUS: At this time of the year snakes begin to wake up because they have had a magnetic, telepathic call from Medicine Men. Snakes have electric, magnetic power the same as used by Medicine Men. While the Sun is posited in Aquarius, charging the atmosphere with electric-magnetic currents, Indians looked for benefits that might come to them through these powers.

PISCES: The ancient Toltec describes the emblem of the Fishes as a denotation of the approach of Spring and the season for fishing. They are considered best and fattest at this season. As they turn in the sun and show their fins, they are said to be tempting the fishermen and husbandmen when the sun is new and bright.

SATURN

are astonished to find the individual more reticent and slow in responses. If new plans are put into effect, they are weighed ever so carefully and thought out in detail as Saturn does not tolerate half way measures.

Saturn in the second house. . . . If money has grown to be your god, you may find yourself deprived of such generous amounts. On the other hand if you have the right set of values, more money may fall into your hands but not without honest effort as the cause. One is paid in full measure for good or bad with Saturn in the second house.

Saturn in third house. . . . This manifests oftentimes as trouble or anxiety through relatives, brothers and sisters especially. Short trips are usually unproductive either in material or emotional welfare. Bad news may come through the mail or one may be a poor correspondent himself, failing to send important letters because Saturn is seemingly restricting the expressive faculties. There is a lack of business sense or a feeling of coldness to friends and relatives.

Saturn in fourth house. . . . This makes one dissatisfied with his work or place of business. He sees greater possibilities all around him. The home life will not be so rosey in outlook. Faults come to light with not the usual sense of humor for short comings on the part of the Saturn afflicted. Losses in real estate are possible at this time. If other eventualities and influences bear out to finality, Saturn in fourth indicates death of the individual as the conclusion of life. This position gives an interest in antique furniture for the home. It indicates old age according to years lived, in a natal chart.

Saturn in fifth. . . . Under this transit old loves may give way to new, the true feelings not being apparent previously. There is a lack of interest in social matters, such things seeming a waste of time. Older friends, both in age and experience become more important to the individual. There may be trouble in discipline of children and in various ways they may prove the source of heart break. Speculation becomes extremely risky as to benefits. Educational matters move slowly but on firm foundations.

Saturn in sixth. . . . Health matters come to the fore. Bodily ills become real as weakened parts of the body manifest in pain and need for attention. Nervous troubles become apparent and the first steps may be taken by consulting a doctor about the general physical welfare. Service grips the mind with new meaning. One becomes more willing to do for others without chance of praise or gain. Saturn in 6th. favors live stock farming and many men move to farms under this transit or are influenced to farming by a like position in the natal chart. Routine work seems less confining, there being a new respect for details in the mind.

Saturn in seventh. . . . There is restriction and delay in partnership ventures, and it will be found that most partnerships are with older people. Marriage, as a legal partnership, comes in for a bit of readjustment. Some divorces take place when either partner has Saturn in seventh transit. In the natal chart it favors marriage to an older person. The devoted couple may find themselves separated through circumstances not of their own making and in which they are powerless to bring about unity of presence. Saturn in seventh favors justice in litigation for the one with the transit. Marriages contracted during a Saturn transit have a firm foundation but it will take time to realize all the dreams of the happy home life.

Saturn in eighth house. . . . This causes one to give great amounts to charity and welfare organizations as from a sense of duty or balm money. It is an aspect that favors legacies of all kinds, especially from parents, showing the principle of time where Saturn activities are concerned. It points to loss if the aspects to Saturn in eight unfavorable, i. e. square etc. Under this placement men make their personal wills, bequeathing wordly good to others.

Saturn in ninth. . . . The mind is deepened in philosophy, some taking up the study of such things for the first time, as Saturn enters ninth after returning to its own place in the natal chart. Traveling for business is prominent at this time. Religion becomes a part of life, more so than in the past. The mind reaches out to oneness with the Creator, seeking more security and general peace of mind in all phases of life. In traveling under Saturn in ninth, one should not expect to hurry, rather should one plan with ample time for minor delays along the line, late trains, bad connections etc.

Saturn in tenth. . . . This is a culmination aspect of life's endeavors along career lines. It is a precarious period. The height is great as is also the fall if the foundations have not been of sturdy material and workmanship. Napoleon and Hitler are examples of Saturn in tenth and the ultimate results. Honors and rewards come to the conscientious under this position . . . long worked for honors and prized rewards that sometimes may have seemed incapable of achievement. This gives popularity to the native of the public nature whether virtuous man or criminal, public acclaim or imprisonment.

Saturn in eleventh. . . . This narrows the circle of friendships, making the native rather choosy in companionship and relationships. Dreams of accomplishment come to the man or woman with renewed vigor. If Saturn in tenth swept prestige and honors to a low ebb, Saturn in eleventh picks up the pieces and begins again on firmer basis.

Saturn in twelfth. . . . This gives a need of more privacy in the life, time for intense concentration and deep study. It is a period corresponding to imprisonment in the good life or actual institutional living in a bad life. It also means a period of forced non-activity due to illness, hospitalization, etc. It is a time when secret activities may lead to loss or gain depending on the motives. Frustrations are felt most keenly and one appears to live in a shell of inapproachability. A natal Saturn in twelfth house makes one suited for warden work in a penitentiary, a nurse in a hospital, a writer of detective fiction, a psychoanalyst etc, other chart manifestations bearing out these proclivities.

As a child your mother and father symbolized Saturn in your life. As an adolescent your conscience had Saturnine duties to bear on your young life. As an adult your work, ambitions, bosses and superiors typify Saturn in your chart. As an old person your memories remind you that there is a Saturn in your chart. But through the years one learns that Saturn is not a planet to fear but to respect. We are free souls only in so far as we accomplish something in a life time to pay our debt to the Creator for the glorious privilege of life. Saturn is in your chart lest you forget. The key to your life's satisfactions lies in the house Saturn occupies in your natal chart. That is where you will find life's lessons through the trial and error system, restrictions to foster patience and fortitude . . . to be crowned with success and honor when your life is done.

LIBRA LOOKING AHEAD

and the intensity of your mental and emotional vibrations.

As was said in an earlier paragraph in this article, you are due for a spiritual awakening and your mind is likely to dwell on philosophy and the more exalted things of life rather than the purely material side. Because of this, it is an excellent time to make a study of philosophical and occult subjects. This will even be reflected in your amusements and your outlook on material things.

Inventive work of all kinds is stressed as well as some development in either art, drama, dancing, architecture, writing or literature. Photography and designing are also well aspected for you. On the more commercial side speculation and investments—if given the proper amount of thought—can prosper for you.

Reforms of all kinds will claim your attention and you will thus display a keen interest in the humanitarian attitude of our government toward the liberated nations of Europe and elsewhere.

Aside from the mystic stimulation of Neptune there are many interesting and exciting events scheduled for you during the coming year, events and circumstances that will demand careful planning and efficient management on your part.

Your extremely active period will be from October 1943 to the latter part of March 1944, when Mars teams up with Saturn and Uranus in Gemini.

Instability is threatened during this period and this will manifest itself in ways over which you have only slight control. It is thus advisable to prepare for the unexpected, trim your sails and be ready to tack with the wind. This is nature's way of crowding much experience into a short space of time. It might be well for you to prepare yourself for a change in career regardless of how static you may seem to be in your present trade, environment or profession.

The position of Jupiter in Leo—your department of friends, hopes and wishes—forms a productive sextile to your sign and thus links up with the trine of Saturn from Gemini. This positive pressure is timely and benefic, presaging many splendid opportunities for progress and advancement in your work. You are in the path of a success cycle from October 1943 to June 17, 1944. The influence is a favorable one on finance, property, industry, law, investments and speculation.

It would be advisable to so conduct your affairs that you will be able to take advantage of the productive planetary tide operating during the first two weeks of June, 1944.

After this period, there is a sudden break indicated as Saturn enters Cancer, forming a conflicting square with Neptune in your own sign. At this time you should be in a condition to entrench and in some way contract the scope of your work or business activities. Be on your guard against domestic and emotional disturbances, deception and treachery from unexpected sources.

This shift of Saturn can have a bearing on national conditions and you can suffer along with the general public. Some relief is noted when Jupiter moves into Virgo on August 26, 1944 and bolsters up the U. S. chart, reducing to some extent the cloudy financial outlook.

The last part of July, all of August and the first days of September 1944 bring a brighter outlook. The last ten days of September call for caution as some disturbances in your life and plans are threatened.

career because they enable him to understand foreign affairs. He is an earnest student, careful, methodical, and self-assured. His restraint, foresight, and calm deliberation are a beneficent guide post these days of intensive propaganda. Mr. Lippman's sane viewpoint is an antidote to the injection of so much bluster and hectic confusion. The Mercury-Uranus conjunct in Libra is the aspect which accounts for his literary and artistic balance.

Deep in your consciousness a powerful idea is awaiting birth—one so important that it may work miracles in your personality and temperament. This is due to the interrelated planetary waves and beams in the Air Signs, stimulating a vital pattern for your aims. So make occupational and emotional "hay" while the celestial rays are working in your behalf.

SCORPIO LOOKING AHEAD

comes more noticeable in January and requires discipline and self-control as well as a new consideration of the rights and feelings of others.

This is no time for hasty decisions unless they are demanded by emergencies. Regardless of whether or not you are "frozen" in your present position don't be too ready to change jobs because of what looks to be a grand new opportunity.

A rising and active industrial tide continues up to June 15, 1944 and it is suggested that you so make your plans as to be able to take advantage of this trend. On June 20, the planet Saturn leaves Gemini and enters Cancer, joining Sun and Venus in a struggle with Neptune and Libra. Disturbed conditions are likely at this time and caution will be your keynote.

As Saturn enters Cancer, he forms a good trine aspect to your sign that may help you to weather this national storm while those of other signs are caught in the maelstrom.

Jupiter continues in Leo in your division of business and profession up to July 25, 1944. In this locality he usually brings opportunities for financial gains and business successes. Expansion is the tendency at this time, with prospects for good performance up to June 15, 1944, while Saturn is in good cooperative sextile from Gemini. This is the time to act upon financial matters wherein you depend upon the cooperation of other persons as their response to your proposals will usually be favorable.

During this time you should push business deals, buy or sell property and adjust employment matters. Avoid law suits if possible and don't be too hasty in speculative matters or signing contracts for the future. Although there are good indications for gain in the above activities, Jupiter is not overfriendly to your sign and you may be disappointed by the actions of your partner or associates.

Jupiter enters Virgo on July 26, 1944 and with this benefic planet working for you from your eleventh house and Saturn favorable from your ninth, a new horizon opens up before you. You can now undertake expansion with considerable assurance of success. Your profession, trade or business offers some opportunity for advancement. Real estate deals are well-aspected and your friendships should mean more than usual to you during this period.

This good influence continues into 1945. You might well arrange for a course of study along technical, scientific or philosophical lines. This would serve the double purpose of enhancing your mental development and putting you in line for new opportunities in work, business or community life. Jupiter in Virgo stresses fraternal and social life. Get out and mix with other people, get acquainted and widen your circle of friends.

Neptune in Libra continues in the good trine contact with Uranus in Gemini. This is also good for scientific or occult study. The occult has always attracted you Scorpio folk and this is a golden period for development in this particular line of study. For the more material-minded among you, good financial advancement can be made through science and invention, chemistry and medicine, mechanics and engineering.

The entire year ahead, with the exceptions of one or two critical periods as noted above, is generally good for speculation and investment, but it is advisable to be alert to sudden shifts in values in January, February, March, June 15-30.

Another prosperous period is indicated during the months of September and October 1944. Should you be engaged in politics, your chances for success are excellent but you will, of course, in this case have a personal study made of your individual chart.

Because of the conflict going on between Saturn and Neptune, you should avoid any deals that might expose you to fraud or deception. Don't place too much dependence on the honesty of new business associates. Avoid also emotional and social involvements wherein there is the slightest chance of slander.

A resume of the above will convince you that this year ahead is teeming with opportunities. Set your course now and resolve to be alert to the very fine chances that are lying ahead.

Signs, therefore adaptable. Durant prefers a philosophy which is fundamentally optimistic. The philosopher who stresses the futility of human existence does not find favor with Durant, accentuated by Mercury in Scorpio sexile Jupiter in Virgo. In other words, he is not sympathetic to the gloomy, pessimistic theories of Schopenhauer and Nietzsche.

You have enormous concentrative ability. You also have the sizzling steam to excel in almost everything you attempt. You are too strenuous and dynamic to accept defeat, or admit failure. Even when things do not turn out as well as you expected, you manage to patch them up somehow so you can claim victory. With all the major planets above the horizon on your solar horoscope, some of your most ardent determination in this respect should materialize. This applies to your career, your estate, and your inner faith.

BACK STREETS

Dear Christina Dahl: I come to you for help as I like your frank yet human way of handling problems such as mine. Have read TODAY'S ASTROLOGY since 1935 when your department first appeared . . . My problem is, for nine years I have been the mistress of a man whom I love more than life itself. He is a high official . . . Because of his career I have not wanted him to divorce his wife. She and her family are wealthy and influential and could ruin him forever politically. They proved this years ago when, against my advice, he temporarily left her. It was a choice of keeping his career and staying with his wife, or coming to me disgraced and penniless. I made him go back in time to prevent any breath of scandal—only because of a selfish reason—I did not believe I could ever make up to him for the career he would give up to marry me; and felt I would rather keep his love than to have him as a husband legally before the world, regretting his sacrifice . . . His wife came to see me lately. She said she didn't care if we continued to see each other because she never had loved him anyway; so long as we were "discreet" about it; but that she would never "let him have the satisfaction" of getting "rid of her" by divorce. She said I was quite welcome to be the "Back Streets" of his life (referring to the book of that name by Fannie Hurst); but that if he ever caused her the embarrassment of leaving her again, she would ruin him completely so he'd never be able to make a comeback. Now, the point is, the man wants to leave her for good, whatever the cost to his career; but I am afraid he might regret it. Do you think my love for him could possibly make up for the hardships and humiliation he might have to endure? This couple has no children. On the other hand, I have a 3 year old son by him, whom he loves dearly and wants to acknowledge before the world. What is the best to do, for everyone concerned? Our birth dates are—(deleted to protect identity).

(MISS) "X", SOUTHWEST.

Lest some of the young girls reading this column may get the idea that love in the "back streets" of a man's life always turns out happily—be it said that the case of Miss X may be the one very rare exception, out of thousands, perhaps. It was she herself, note, who out of mistaken consideration of where the man's real happiness and welfare lay, chose to oppose his earnest desire, and occupy the back streets of his life.

You, Miss X, made a mistake years ago when you insisted that the man you love go back to a loveless "marriage of convenience" which he evidently contracted as a youthful mistake. We are no longer living in the dark ages. Divorces have taken place in some of our so-called very "best" families. The general public does not trample down a man politically, merely because he has seen fit to correct a youthful mistake, and married the woman he loves. As for the threats of the wife-in-name-only, I doubt that even if any machinations of that sort were started against him that they would have the power to do him permanent harm. Speaking of influence, I should judge the man in himself has more influence than can be destroyed by any possible vengefulness on the part of one single family, however "powerful" they might be. At the beginning, it is true, this family's influence may have helped him to get a start in his career. However, do not forget for one moment that he then went ahead and made good on his own merits, and that by virtue of his own merits, has been climbing ever since.

Fortunately, Miss X, it is not too late to correct your mistake. Even if it meant a serious risk to his career—though I am sure it does not—I should advise you to let him achieve the one desire he holds above all others. Let him go through with the legal matter. Let him marry you and come "home" to you and his child, where he has belonged all these years.

Would your love make up to him for the "hardships and humiliation" he might have to endure, you ask? The "hardships" you would have together, married, would be as nothing compared to those of the past nine years. Your love is equal to anything you may have to face—together. By all means, marry, and make it as soon as possible. Good luck to you both.

MORE "BACK STREETS"?

Dear Miss Dahl: I was born June 4, 1896. Have been in love with a man born Mar. 31, for the last five years. Now he seems only to hurt me, playing with my affections . . . seems to be returning to his wife, waiting on and catering to her . . . Should I wait for this man? I dread to think of a lasting separation . . . Please give me your advice. My husband died six years ago. I am very lonely and hurt . . .

M.A.S.K., PENNSYLVANIA.

In the Union Chart of yourself and the married man in question, there are a number of strongly adverse Saturn-Uranus to Sun-Moon aspects that indicates marriage between you to be improbable. Astrologically, I see nothing that you can bank on, Friend. My judgment of his chart suggests he is fiery and ardent, but not dependable nor particularly stable or loyal in love. Saturn with his Moon indicates a tendency to selfishness in love, to getting more than he is willing to give. He appears to be rather expedient and not likely to give any more than he is forced to give, in any situation in life. Frankly, I doubt very much that you really love him, Mrs. K. In your loneliness following the death of your mate, he just happened to be the most attractive and congenial man on your horizon, and you were drawn to him. I would suggest that you widen your horizons now, get into some civic, patriotic and club work, and circulate more among people. You have let yourself become too isolated, and your perspective has suffered. Frankly, I sincerely believe, Friend, that the sooner you terminate this relationship, the better for you, as the man concerned obviously has no intention of trying to make you his wife. A better cycle for love will begin for you in early 1944, and you should find your social opportunities becoming better than for many years past. Look forward to the coming good cycle, Friend. That is your most constructive way to a good future, shared with one who will be the kindred spirit and the loyal companion you desire.

Home, Vocational and General Queries:

GOLDY, MINN. (May 19, 1908): No. I can find no evidence in your chart that you are the "spendthrift" your husband claims. Sun and Moon in the practical earth signs of Taurus and Capricorn, Uranus conjunct your Moon, would indicate that you are a normally generous person—on rare occasions, impulsively so—but definitely not a "wastrel"! In my opinion, the education for the children, the clothes and lists of items you mention, are strictly necessities; and I cannot understand how anyone in your man's quite good financial circumstances can look upon these as "foolish luxuries". As for his actually sending his 15 year old daughter away from home to work, when he was quite able to support her and let her finish the education which would give her a real start in life—! Frankly, my opinion is that unless your husband makes a complete about face, and soon, and shows himself to be worthy of such a fine wife and family, you better start packing, Goldy. I would not advise divorce at this time, but separate maintenance. It is high time you and the children had some peace away from the man who, as you say, made the statement that he bought you when he bought your marriage license, and could therefore do with you as he pleased! The grand, good-humored, philosophical person you are, Goldy, is shown in your remark: "Boy! I hate to think I'm not worth more than $2.50—" People like you are the salt of the earth, Friend, and no coin of any realm can measure your value. Good luck to you

J. S. V., ILL. (Oct. 16, 1917): With Saturn and Mars in your eleventh, and Sun and Moon in Libra, you appear well suited for the altruistic arts or sciences, such as medicine, social or charity work, laboratory research. The opportunity to assist in the laboratory you mention, should lead to a good future for you. By all means, get as much post-graduate work at the university as you can obtain.

L. L. A., IND. (Dec. 6, 1919): You have a typical "career-girl" horoscope. Sun in Sagittarius, Moon in Gemini, and Saturn in Virgo suggest work in connection with advertising, publicity, radio or newspapers. You will probably do much creative writing, later in life.

L. R. E. KY. (July 26, 1917): No man is likely to appreciate a girl who is an "easy conquest", Friend. You must be self-respecting enough to insist upon certain considerations on the part of men, or they will never respect you. Better break with the boy you tell me about, and soon. I find no evidence that he will bring you anything but harm. There is no slight probability of marriage with him. A better cycle for love and romance is coming along for you in just a few months, friend. There is one certain way you can know if a man really loves you: Does he do all in his power to make you his for life legally, before the world? That is the acid test, remember.

MRS. J. S., WIS. (Sept. 11, 1902): Without the man's birthdate, I cannot of course tell you whether or not you are astrologically compatible. From your own chart, receiving a strong Saturn and Uranus square, it seems probable you are facing a turning point, and may make an important move severing you from your old life. A congenial love life is likely to be the result of such move.

HOOSIER GEMINI, (May 30, 1909): It appears that your favorable astro progressions are likely to bring romance in 1944-1945. However, I find no indication that your friendship with Mr. Sagittarius will be resumed. The separation appears to be final.

A. N., CALIF. (Feb. 1, 1918): Yes, for you Aquarians, one of the results of Uranus' transit through Gemini during the next few years, should be towards rebuilding the love life on more enduring and constructive foundations. A very romantic cycle ahead indicates probability of marriage before 1945.

PERSONALITY BRIEFS

Obstacles show themselves in your life, but you are able to get around or overcome them.

Your aptitude for logic and argument and your versatility make you a good counsellor at law. You could also shine as a lecturer, teacher, or travel agent.

Libra

You are so fair and just that others rely on you for guidance. They come to you with their problems and since you think clearly, you are usually able to dispel their gloom and put them in the right mood.

You like to be busy and sometimes you do so much at a single session that you appear to be possessed of an inexhaustible endurance.

You are qualified to excel in art, designing, and in catering to the luxurious tastes of connoisseurs.

Scorpio

Freedom is as vital to you as air. Confinement or domination irks you, and woe to anyone who attempts to restrain your enthusiasm, for your resentment is fiery. To you life is a great adventure, and attainment an intriguing challenge.

You are good at taking the pulse of the public and in appealing to mass psychology. You have a high sense of honor and family tradition.

Sagittarius

You have an overwhelming desire to plan for the future, and to keep busy with things you like to do. You have keen intellect and discrimination with which you facilitate your efforts.

You have a free and easy way with people. Your manner and thinking are refreshing—your enthusiasm runs high. This is due to the fact that your Sign is ruled by Jupiter—the largest planet in the Solar system.

Capricorn

You can be conservative or extremely liberal in your viewpoints. Because of this, you react to conditions with either enthusiasm or vigorous obstinacy. But when it comes to matters of principles or policy, you never compromise—a character trait which some people resent. But nonetheless you stick to your convictions, setting a marvelous example of tenacity. When you start out to do something, you usually win.

Aquarius

Your imagination is vivid and your intellectual endowments many. Though given to speculation, you do not often lose. You are quiet, even retiring in your disposition. Nevertheless you are positive in your attitude and are an independent thinker.

You like to have your hand on the steering wheel, to meet the varying winds and tides of life and make them serve your needs and wants.

Pisces

You take your personal problems seriously and so miss a certain amount of happiness that is attainable through mental poise. Unpleasant incidents make you skeptical and because of your caution you seldom show you have the talent to make people laugh.

Only those you know and trust implicitly realize that behind your seeming austere expression, you are sensitive, kindly and generous.

YOUR FIFTH HOUSE

are forever more or less at war with love but when you finally capitulate, you are like a person born anew. Mercury in this position gives a superficial interest in children. Offspring are considered mainly as complements to the parent personality. You can easily understand a child's juvenile reasoning powers at the same time you are likely to expect more from him than he is capable of attaining. You are adaptable to forms of entertainment, at one time preferring something quite elite and at other times joining in common forms of fun just for variety. You could be an excellent participant in a quiz show or forum discussion. The quiet, graceful dances are not for your enjoyment but rather the fast tap-dancing steps with intricate routine. One with Mercury in fifth house is forever learning new facts. The education is never considered sufficient. There is much reading and self analysis, psychology and psychiatry holding places of interest. Speculation has to be a pretty sure thing to appeal to a person with Mercury in fifth, rather does he speculate with his mind on the intangibles of life. The too obvious is always discarded. You may be more interested in theories of chance than in applying them.

JUPITER IN FIFTH. . . . Expansiveness is your key note. Many love affairs come your way and you accept them as sand through a sieve. Romance to your way of thinking is a chance to make a good impression and beyond that goal you do not aspire. If love turns out to be anything but temporary, you are the one who is surprised. Love them and leave them could be your slogan. Jupiter in fifth favors children and almost guarantees their welfare and good health while in your care. You have a great gambling streak in your nature. This runs the gamut of experiences from the most trivial of life's events to the greatest in scope and meaning. You think marriage is a gamble. Earning a living is a gamble. Even going fishing appeals to you as a gamble. . . . Will I catch fish, will I not? In the entertainment field, you like sports events, jolly get to gethers, large crowds and plenty of activity. Yours is the expansive mentality so well suited to college, university and specialized training in the educational field. As a minister you would be eloquent; as a parent, protective; as a lawyer, just and as a friend, generous.

SATURN IN FIFTH. . . . Every love affair is to you an obligation to be to the other person what that person wants you to be. You probably had very few love affairs as you are too serious to trifle with affections in half way measures. Saturn builds on solid foundations so the intriguing interlude in romance would not appeal to you so much as the more solid basis for partnership. This position of Saturn does not favor children as it sometimes denies one children of physical conception, especially if there are adverse aspects to the eighth house of sex. However, you like all children and make an excellent teacher for them. Your forms of entertainment may be varied but one thought is always uppermost in your mind, am I wasting my time or can I derive some good from this diversion. This position is not conducive to speculation in any form. The nature is too conservative due to the planetary restriction in the fifth house. In any form of amusement there is apt to be the attitude of the mother cat who finally condescends to play a while with her tiny kittens. Your education is apt to be profound, in the sciences or highest professions.

URANUS IN FIFTH. . . . You are inclined to be a very unconventional person in love affairs. . . the more the merrier for you and experience is the key note. Romance on the wing is your tonic and you sometimes stifle in marriage as a bird in a snare, even though the snare may be a very comfortable domicile headed by an adoring husband. Uranus in fifth looks askance at children as hampering to the freedom of the individual. Your children are bound to be unique little creatures for you will train them that way. Uranus in fifth squared by Venus leads to all kinds of complications in both the male and female life. In fact, such a person would do well not to marry at all. Your forms of entertainment are the newest, the most modern types available. Your dancing, if you are young enough, could be the jitterbug. Speculation may intrigue you not so much for a chance at gain as for the novelty of your undertaking. You would never deliberately spend time gambling just for the sake of monetary profit. The Uranus in fifth person is frequently the self-made type. You pick up information and experience here and there until you know a little about everything.

NEPTUNE IN FIFTH. . . . This is the aspect of the actor or actress. As to the instability in love life, romance and courtship, one has only to bring to mind the Hollywood celebrities. With this position you may be too idealistic, in fact, completely out of this world in your ideas of love and to the extent mere humans can live up to those ideals. This position of Neptune frequently denies children to the native. Your ideas of children are probably relative to the old ideas about little bundles from heaven's gate. As a possible parent you would be the type to read bedtime stories to the children and in other ways foster their active imaginations. Your amusements center around the world of make-believe, the movies, the theatricals, the pseudo-reality of the night club. You could easily become a victim to all forms of speculation and therefore should stay clear of such entanglements. It is doubtful if you could gain in speculation. Your education might culminate in a degree in music or a profession on the stage or movies. You must have some form of self expression for Neptune in your creative house gives you great stimulus along those lines, and this stimulus is more spiritual than either physical or mental.

PLUTO IN FIFTH. . . . This planet moves slowly and so generations have Pluto in one of the twelve houses. Pluto in fifth is like Mars on a broader plane. It intensifies where Mars sometimes diffuses. Pluto means business in whatever house he is in. You have a deep love nature of the soulful type. Children are God's gift to you and your way of paying the Maker for the privilege of living your own life. As to amusements and entertainment you may be a saint or a sinner in your pursuits and you may be a little of both. Speculation has no terrors for you for Pluto delves deep into unknowns and brings to light answers. As to education, we have an example in Hitler's education for death in his Nazi regime. That is plutonic education in its finality, as also the criminal who educates himself to lawless methods for gain only to end up in a penitentiary.

SUN IN FIFTH. . . . This gives special emphasis to all fifth house matters as Leo is the natural fifth house of the sun. You are a magnanimous lover, a doting parent, loving children for their own sake. Your amusements are centered in dramatic interests where you can have an active part. You do not care to be an onlooker. Speculation will run to market investments with the chance for material gain, to keep up with the Joneses. With Sun in fifth your education will be apt to be concentrated on one particular ambition.

MOON IN FIFTH. . . . As a lover you are much like a will o' the wisp. Romance is your forte. You are emotional at the expense of practical considerations. This position favors children very much and your attitude toward them is the eternal mother. Yours is very apt to be the spoiled child. Your entertainment and amusements center in your home, club, societies of congenial friends and relatives. When you seek escape from the humdrum a picnic is the answer, or a nice evening in a smart dinner club. You are too emotional and instable for speculation and are beaten by your own negative thoughts before you begin. Education as a means of acquiring book knowledge does not appeal to you. Your education concerns human values and in these you often excell your more learned friends and intellectual acquaintances.

If you know the sign on your fifth house; if you know the planet or planets in that house; if you know the ruler of your fifth and where it is located in the horoscope, then the fifth house has no mysteries for you. If the fifth house has no planets in it, then the ruler is strong in matters of that house and you must look to the house containing the fifth house ruler for clues to your activities. No planets in the fifth and a weak ruler of the fifth is frequently a symbol of spinsterhood or bachelorhood, there being a total lack of interest in such matters as of fifth house.
